CRIMSONS ENTER ROSE BOWL GAME WITH SLIGHT EDGE

Two Powerful Teams Are Keyed to Peak for Closing Battle of Undefeated Seasons.

CROWD OF 70,000 EXPECTED AT GAME

Light Workouts End Long Preparations for Classic. "Under Dog" Cougars Face Giants of South.

BY ED DANFORTH,
Constitution Sports Editor.

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 31.—In a huge bowl set in the arroyo seco, draped in tropical foliage and girted by snow capped mountain peaks, Alabama's football team will engage the Washington State College eleven tomorrow at 2:15 o'clock Pacific time, in the annual Tournament of Roses game.

Sixty or seventy thousand people will gather to see the champions of the Southern conference, considered by many to be one of the strongest produced in Dixie in many a year, clash with the champions of the Pacific Coast conference, the strange, hogged, robust eleven that beat Stanford, California and U. S. C.

In days agone the Tournament of Roses had chariot races and bear baiting contests as athletic features. That was back when the republic was young and men's tastes were cruder. But the game today will be just as thrilling as any chariot race and just as bitter as any bear fight. Sectional pride is running strong. Alabama has a record of a victory and a tie in two previous duels in this same bowl and has been established pregame favorite.

The Cougars, as the W. S. C. players are called, not only want to beat the stolid men from the cotton country but they want to show to advantage before a California crowd that has sort of low-rated them all season. And if the Red Elephants did not ride 2,500 miles to take their first licking of a hard campaign neither did the Cougars ride 1,500 miles to taste a first defeat.

Both teams are keyed to play their best.

Both will have the will to win. The stronger determination will sway the result.

Odds that early favored Alabama as much as 2 to 1 had receded somewhat according to the estimates downtown from people who profess to know. The coast has come to think, in recent days, that perhaps after all Washington State will be very tough to beat. They always have believed that Alabama was lucky to beat Washington and tie Stanford in her two previous visits.

Babe Hollingbery, the Cougar coach, always starts his full varsity. He does not possess the good reserves that decorate the Alabama bench. Coach Wade has talked much of starting his second team as shock troops but I have an idea he will send out his ten juniors and Hurry Cain, the slashing sophomore. In games this fall against Vanderbilt, Kentucky and Georgia, when he anticipated his toughest opposition, Coach Wade selected his most experienced team to meet the first on-

Mind of Genius Grows Faster Than His Bones

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Science has gone to its store of bones and skulls to evolve a new definition of genius. A genius, it has found, is a person whose mind grows faster than his bones.

The Charles F. Brush Foundation of Cleveland gave this definition to the American Association of Physical Anthropologists today during the convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The definition was evolved through the foundation's search into a collection of 2,500 men, women and children, 240 chimpanzee, orang-utan and gorilla skulls and skeletons, and a large collection of human bones.

X-ray, medical, physical, mental and dental examinations are being given the living. Measurements are made on every little corner of each skeleton.

ATLANTA-TO-MIAMI PLANES FLY TODAY

Opening of New Leg Forges Final Link in Long Chain.

BY GENE HINTON,
Constitution Aviation Editor.

A new strand in the network of air passenger service which is being woven in the south with Atlanta as the hub will be spun this morning, when two Eastern Air Transport 10-place Curtiss Kingbirds will rise from their Candler Field resting place and roar away into the south.

Opening of the new Atlanta-Miami leg completes the New York-Atlanta-Miami service which Eastern Air Transport opened December 10 and forges the final link in the chain of air services connecting Canada and South America and Los Angeles and Miami.

Aboard the two planes leaving this morning, one of which will be piloted by our own Doug Davis, famed airman, who recently became affiliated with E. A. T., and the other by William A. Siever, former night mail pilot between Richmond and New York, will be the following group of company officials and guests:

E. A. T. Executives Here.

Captain Thomas B. Doe, president, Eastern Air Transport, Inc.; Harold A. Elliott, vice president and operations manager of that company; Edwin K. Large, Atlanta postmaster; Joseph E. Berman, who is slated to head council's aviation committee during 1931; John K. Ottley, Jr., division traffic manager, Eastern Air Transport, Inc.; Walter Hopkins, local manager for Livingston & Co., and Thomas B. Doe, Jr.

The official party will fill one of the two planes and the other will be loaded to capacity with "paying" passengers and mail, local E. A. T. officers reporting Wednesday that reservations for accommodations on the new line have been sold out through January 3. This fact, coupled with the close tie-up afforded with Eastern Air Transport's present passenger-mail line from New York and with Pan American services to Cuba, Panama and South America, indicates that the new line will prove just as largely patronized as the New York route, which has been carrying capacity loads since its inauguration December 10.

Little ceremony will attend the opening of the new line here this morning, most of the entertainment programs celebrating the event having been scheduled for the Florida points affected. Atlanta's Eastern Air Transport "party" was given on December 9, the eve of the New York-Atlanta opening and the company felt it would be more appropriate for the ceremonies surrounding the opening

LONDON NAVY PACT IN EFFECT TODAY, AUGURY FOR PEACE

Secretary Stimson Expects New Activity for World Peace During Year to Come.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Further activity in behalf of world peace during the coming year was forecast tonight by Secretary Stimson.

In a New Year's statement, the secretary of state said President Hoover tomorrow would proclaim the naval treaty, and added:

coming into effect of the London

"This happy augury for peace and this example of the limitation and reduction of armament by agreement will, I am convinced, serve to stimulate further peaceful endeavors during the coming year."

Stimson said the London treaty and the Kellogg anti-war pact "indicate the development of humane understanding as the guide of international policy."

Earlier in the day it was announced at the White House that President Hoover would issue the proclamation on New Year's Day as a gesture of good will.

The treaty became effective today with the deposit at the London foreign office of the ratification by the Irish Free State. It was ratified by the United States senate in a special session last summer.

The full text of Secretary Stimson's statement follows:

"The final ratification of the London naval treaty having been deposited on the last day of the old year, the president is tomorrow proclaiming the coming into force of this pact which completes the efforts for naval limitation begun at Washington in 1922 and effectively eliminates competition among the greatest navies of the world.

"This happy augury for peace and this example of the limitation and reduction of armament by agreement will, I am convinced, serve to stimulate further peaceful endeavors during the coming year.

"The proclamation of the treaty for the renunciation of war in 1929 and the navy treaty on the first day of 1931 mark the completion of two achievements which, more than any others that I know, indicate the development of humane understanding as the guide of international policy."

GALLANT JOFFRE CLINGS TO LIFE

French Hero Shows Almost Unbelievable Strength in Fight.

PARIS, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Lingering on as the old year ebbed away, Marshal Joffre sank into a state of semi-consciousness today, then rallied enough to drink some milk before he fell into a sound sleep.

As night fell his doctors issued a bulletin announcing that his breathing was regular and his temperature only a little above normal. They said, however, that it might be necessary to issue another bulletin tonight and this was interpreted as their guarded way of saying that the marshal might not live to see the dawn.

Only three visitors were admitted to the sick room in the hospital of St. Jean-De-Dieu and one of these was Jean Fabry, a former aide, who took the general's wasted hand. Marshal Joffre looked up at him and said: "My dear Fabry." That was all.

Madame Joffre remained at the bedside all day and "Papa" Joffre's best friends—the common people of Paris—waited in crowds outside the hospital alternately smiling and shaking their heads as the doctors' bulletins reported rallies and relapses.

Last night the marshal had a heart attack, but his marvelous vitality withstood it and this evening the doctors said he was propped up in bed to make the heart action easier.

13-Year-Old Boy Kidnaped by Negro

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Adolphus Busch Orthwein, 13, grandson of August A. Busch, president of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., and great-grandson of the late Adolphus Busch, was kidnaped at 7:30 o'clock tonight from the grounds of the Orthwein home in Huntleigh Village, St. Louis county, by a negro armed with a revolver.

The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy J. Orthwein. His mother before her marriage was Miss Clara Busch. His father is vice president of an advertising agency.

Ex-Convict Sought as Slayer Of Oklahoma Teacher Sisters

Jessie, left, and Zexia Griffith, pretty Oklahoma teacher-sisters, who were slain early Sunday morning when they were returning to their schools after a Christmas vacation at Blackwell, Okla. Acquaintances of Jessie, the younger girl, claimed that she had been apprehensive of evil for several weeks prior to her death, but police are inclined to discount these reports and claim to know the slayer, a criminal character who now is being widely sought.

BLACKWELL, Okla., Dec. 31.—(AP)—Reports of a drink-maddened ex-convict, careening up and down a highway beside which were found the bullet-pierced bodies of two sisters, were related today by officers seeking Earl Quinn for the murders.

County Attorney Bruce Potter disclosed a chain of evidence by which he hopes to lay the slayings of Jessie and Zexia Griffith, school teachers, to Quinn, now sought in several middle western cities.

He said Quinn, armed with pistol and gas-filled "gun," set out along the highway in a motor car, to "hijack a bootlegger" late Saturday night, a few hours before the teachers, returning to their schools from a Christmas vacation here, were shot to death near Tonkawa, Okla.

The former Missouri convict, crazed with drink, halted several motorists in his search for the bootlegger, according to the county attorney, who believes Quinn fired a shot at the girls' motor car, wounding Zexia, 35; forced them to enter his car; attacked the younger sister, Jessie, 24, and then killed both and tossed their bodies alongside the road.

Potter said Quinn possessed a pistol similar to that with which the sisters were slain. A button found in the girls' bloodstained coupe matches a vest left in Quinn's room at Tonkawa, Potter said.

Sunday morning Quinn and his wife, the latter now held, drove to Wichita, Kan., quarreled and separated. Potter believes Quinn went to Kansas City, his former home.

A fiendish whim following a chance highway encounter led to the slayings, Potter believes.

He minimized the importance of reports from Norman, Okla., where the younger Miss Griffith was supervisor of music in the public schools, that she had been fearful for weeks because a man had "shadowed" her.

Police, however, continued an independent probe of the reported "shadowing," arresting James Sartor at Norman as a result of a telephone number and picture found among Jessie's belonging.

The girl's friends could not identify Sartor as the purported "shadower."

Old Man Nineteen-Thirty Dies, After Year of Ups and Downs

Few Pause at Bier of Ancient One Who Brought Hard Times, But Birth of Infant 1931 Is Joyfully Acclaimed.

BY WILLIAM O. KEY, JR.

An old fellow lay dying. His last minutes ticked off ominously; and from the outside doleful bells tolled—like a requiem for a sinner who had played hard and fast with life, who had sullied the escutcheon of the years. He had brought trouble, hard times, grief. He hadn't lived up to expectations. And around him was gathered a world of those who, out of simple respect for ritual, remained quiescent while he passed.

Near midnight, as men time things. The funeral resonance of the bells suddenly was pierced by the wild skirl of whistles, that somehow sounded like the shrill cries of sirens reminding the old man of his misspent youth; like the incriminating cries of ancient sins, almost forgotten. He was dying. In a little while, minutes, seconds, he would be gone. People had forgotten. They had forgotten all the little moments of happiness that he had brought them. In their excitement to witness the crowning of another chance for a mark on the candle of time, they groped only for the start of a new year. And all the time the old fellow breathed heavily. He had done the best he could.

Only Dimension Presented.

They had forgotten. Few could remember, like other years which had preceded him, he represented only a dimension. Dully, with their foolish little paper caps perched on their heads and their blatant pasteboard horns, they shrieked and tooted for the borning of a little fellow who might bring better things or—. The old man sighed. Yes, forgotten were all the moments of joy and happiness of 1930; but they could remember the achings and worries and sorrows of the year just behind. And their eternal hope, clutching for one more chance, believed that here, after all, lay a new opportunity for success . . . The old fellow smiled, and went to sleep—peacefully, ever so peacefully.

Amidst the jovialities of the people waiting, a new sound was heard—that of an infant of some sort, half crying, half gurgling with joy. It was the baby 1931. Ready for anything, a toy or a colic; and looking quite a bit surprised at this brand-new world he saw. Born in the same old environment, of people forlorn over past errors and hopefully scanning the horizon for new straws to clutch in a maelstrom in which they found themselves, it seemed to amuse the infant.

Not a Bad World.

"We will treat this one better," they all were saying. "We will show him that this is the best possible world in which to live."

And the infant, looking them over with that wide-eyed wisdom that only very young babies possess, smiled to himself. Just fond and foolish parents, these people of the world. Neither good nor bad; just a little careless. New Year babies, being precocious things, have a vast understanding. They know that in their relativity of time, other babies to come will be the fancy of those doting parents, with their multicolored caps and squawking horns; that they will be looked upon as balefully as was the old man who had just passed.

But the new one was born under auspicious circumstances. No blemish of heredity will mar his record, and, according to those who study those things closely related to the stars,

POLICE SHAKEUP REVISES WATCHES, CUTS DETECTIVES

Changes Said To Have Been Made To Correct Irregularities; Plain-clothes Squad Reduced.

First steps in the long - heralded shake-up of the Atlanta police department were taken Wednesday afternoon when all of the captains and lieutenants were switched to other watches, and the detective department, under First Assistant Chief A. Lamar Poole, was reduced by five men and four other experienced men of that squad were put back in uniform.

The change is effective this morning under an order issued by Chief of Police James L. Beavers.

Despite the fact that Chief Beavers declared the many changes are "only a routine matter," it was said in police circles that the change has been made with a view of correcting irregularities which are alleged to have existed in Atlanta policing. It also was said that the changes in the detective department may react to hamper the work of that department, inasmuch as at least four of the men demoted are regarded as highly experienced and efficient.

The entire official personnel of the three watches was switched.

Detective H. T. Brown will be succeeded by C. E. McCrary; G. N. Ellis by E. D. Meek; W. D. McGhee by J. A. Hamilton, and W. D. Stephens by G. G. Caldwell.

W. L. Owen and F. B. Watson were added to the force.

The order transferred the following officers:

Day to morning watch: Captain G. T. Butler, Lieutenant W. M. Weaver, Lieutenant C. H. Mitchell, Lieutenant R. J. Brown, Lieutenant E. E. Callaway, Lieutenant W. C. Hardy, Patrolman F. M. Bell, Partolman J. B. Wilson.

Evening to day watch: Captain G. C. Fain, Lieutenant J. A. Scott, Lieutenant L. J. Carroll, Lieutenant J. W. Barfield, Lieutenant R. L. Waggoner, Lieutenant J. W. Blazer.

Morning to evening watch: Captain A. J. Holcombe, Lieutenant E. C. Hudson, Lieutenant C. F. Allen, Lieutenant L. F. Carter, Lieutenant O. R. Jones, Lieutenant J. W. McWilliams.

The following men were relieved of their duties as members of the plain clothes squad, with their places filled as indicated above: H. T. Brown, evening watch, uniform duty; G. N. Ellis, evening watch, uniform duty; W. D. McGhee, evening watch, uniform duty; W. J. Stephens, evening watch, uniform duty; C. E. Retsch, evening watch, uniform duty; E. I. Hilderbrand, evening watch, uniform duty; A. L. Allen, evening watch, uniform duty; Y. T. Allen, evening watch, uniform duty; W. M. Holland, evening watch, uniform duty; D. C. Barge, evening watch, uniform duty; R. L. Burden, evening watch, uniform duty.

R. L. Hollingsworth and J. H. Doyal were detailed to the evening and morning watch, respectively, as desk men.

Chief Poole declined to comment on the changes and other officials were reticent concerning them. The only comment came from Chief Beavers, who declared the changes "were made for the good of the service and are of a routine nature only."

BUFF REINSTATED TO GRADY POSITION

Committee Which Fired Physician Returns Him as Bronchoscopy Chief.

Dr. Julian H. Buff, fired as head of the bronchoscopy and esophogoscopy departments at Grady hospital because "he talked too much" in the recent probe of affairs of that institution by Fulton county grand jury, Wednesday was back at work in his same position after an informal meeting of the hospitals and charities committee Tuesday, it was announced Wednesday night by Alderman G. Everett Millican, chairman.

Dr. Buff's departments were consolidated with the eye, ear, nose and throat divisions by action of the same hospitals and charities committee about six weeks ago, but the committee reversed itself on recommendations of Alderman Millican, who fought abolition of the services when the board voted to merge the departments.

He had been in charge of the department for the past four years until his summary dismissal several weeks ago. He was graduated from Emory University and served with the Cincinnati general hospital before becoming chief of bronchoscopy and esophogoscopy for the United States government during the World War.

"I conducted a personal investigation as to the utility and the service of the departments," Mr. Millican declared, "and found that the eye, ear, nose and throat department chiefs changed about every two months.

HOOVER PLAN HIT AS CARRIERS' AID

Couzens Says President Acted "Unethically" in Making Proposal.

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Charging the proposed four-system consolidation of eastern railroads was a plan to help the roads out of financial difficulties "at the expense of human misery," Chairman Couzens, of the senate interstate commerce committee, today accused President Hoover of being "most unethical" in sponsoring it.

Both Couzens and Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, said the president prejudiced the merits of the plan by commenting on it before it was submitted to the interstate commerce commission.

The plan, announced by President Hoover at the White House yesterday, would place all eastern roads, except those in New England, under the Pennsylvania, the Baltimore & Ohio, the New York Central and the Nickel Plate lines.

Couzens issued two formal statements during the day. "I have received information," he said in his second, "that the railroad consolidation plan entered into by the New York Central, the Baltimore & Ohio, the Pennsylvania and the Van Sweringens is more the result of high finance than it is in the public interest.

To Help Out.

"It is reported that some of the high finance practiced by the railroads during the past few years has reacted against their financial interest, that while they should have been endeavoring to operate and manage railroads efficiently they have been really engaged in great financial undertakings and this proposal is more of a proposal to help them out of their financial difficulties than it is in the public interest.

"It is really too bad that high finance and permanent railroad consolidation should be proposed at the expense of human misery. It is in reality worse than playing politics at the expense of human misery, because politics is a transient affair, while the proposed undertaking seems to intend to tie the public up with it in perpetuity."

In his first statement, Couzens said: "While I hesitate to criticize the ethics of the president of the United States, the issuance of this statement by him in my judgment is most unethical.

"In the concluding paragraph of the president's statement he says 'the plan of course must be submitted to the interstate commerce commission who have the independent duty to determine if it meets with every requirement of public interest.'

Owed to President.

"In view of the president's support of the plan it is questionable whether the 'independent duty' of the commission can be ascertained. Everyone knows that these commissioners owe their positions to the president of the United States and while it is the duty of the senate to confirm these appoint-

CARRYING LETTERS TO CONVICT BRINGS SUMMARY ACTION

Prisoner Claims That Chaplain Owed Him Money for Checks Handled and Refused to Pay.

WARDEN ADERHOLT DECLINES TO TALK

Superintendent of Prisons To Decide Whether Chaplain Will Be Prosecuted; Ladlow Silent.

The Rev. G. Frederick Ladlow, protestant chaplain at the federal penitentiary here, Wednesday was summarily dismissed, Sanford Bates, superintendent of prisons, announcing at Washington that the dismissal was ordered for infraction of the prison rules, asserting that it had been learned that the chaplain had been carrying letters from the prison for a convict working in his office.

Washington advices said that Chaplain Ladlow was removed from office specifically for the taking in and out of letters for a prisoner, Superintendent Bates adding that the prisoner in question complained that he had money due him from the chaplain, which the latter had refused to pay, for checks which had been handled by Ladlow. This matter was still under investigation by Warden Aderholt, Bates said.

Mr. Bates stated in this connection that the former chaplain had offered to make good the amount of these alleged defalcations, it was said.

Prosecution Not Decided.

When asked in regard to what steps would be taken towards criminal prosecution of the former chaplain, Mr. Bates said that this was a matter which had not yet been decided but would depend upon the report made by Warden Aderholt and the United States district attorney in Atlanta. In this connection, the bringing in of blank checks to the prisoner, whose name was not given, appeared to be an added offense to that of carrying mail back and forth which had not been passed by the penitentiary censor.

Though Superintendent Bates declined to go into details and the dismissed chaplain and Warden A. C. Aderholt refused to discuss the case, it was learned here Wednesday night that the matter has been laid before District Attorney Clint W. Hager to decide whether there shall be prosecution. It was pointed out that the only laws which may have been violated were those governing the transportation of contraband to and from the prison.

Prisoner's Name Withheld.

The name of the convict for whom the chaplain is said to have been carrying mail from the prison and for whom he is alleged to have received mail in his own name was not learned, both Washington and Atlanta authorities refusing to divulge his identity. It was said, however, that the convict still is confined here.

Ordinarily, convict mail is censored going to and from the penitentiary.

1930 Replete With 'News,' Constitution Review Reveals

Events of Widespread Interest to South and Nation Occurred During Year of Ups and Downs.

Few years in the recent history of Atlanta have been so filled with happenings of widespread interest as was 1930, a review of the news files of The Atlanta Constitution covering that period disclosed today.

Beginning with the first month and continuing through each succeeding similar period, the occurrences of the year just ended flitted by with a kaleidoscopic sequence that held the city's interest in unmitigated suspense throughout the entire 12 months.

News of the year ranged from vast economic projects through the gamut of human interest and, in some instances, local happenings of nation-wide attraction. Month-by-month, the record as gleaned from The Constitution's files revealed the following story of Atlanta and Georgia:

JANUARY.

January 1—Blues beat Cardinals, 21-12, in football benefit at Grant field.

January 2—Fulton county commissioners reorganized with Dr. William L. Gilbert as chairman. Dr. McIntosh M. Burns named new president Atlanta board education.

January 4—Fulton county grand jury scored "graft" in municipal government. Game-fish department state government placed in hands of receivers as Peter Twitty and G. E. Gregory battle for commissioner's post.

January 5—Fermor Barrett, veteran Stephens county legislator, killed in automobile crash. City graft committee organized to assist in prosecution of those to be indicted.

January 6—January-February grand jury began its probe of graft in city hall. Whitman, Requardt & Smith, Baltimore engineers, awarded contract for sanitary survey.

January 8—John E. Barnett shot and killed his former wife, Mrs. Doris Elizabeth Mason, and her husband, in a jealous rage and then killed himself.

BAD COUGHS ARE EASILY STOPPED

Dreadful Weakening, Winter Coughs Vanish If You Know How

SIMPLE HOME REMEDY DOES THE WORK QUICK

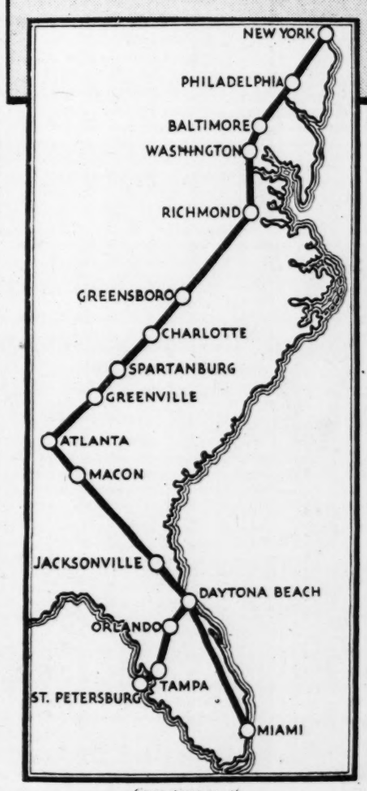

"The awful cold I took last winter hung on and settled in my lungs with a dreadful cough that almost tore my chest apart. My chest was sore even under my armpits. The Bronchial tubes were irritated and I was coughing up terrible mucous and felt absolutely ill and weak from it. I had no appetite. Just felt miserable," writes Mrs. Iver T. Johnson, 121 E. Pine Street, Chisholm, Minn.

"The cold tablets did no good and made me dopey, so I took a neighbor's advice and got a bottle of Lin-O-Nine Emulsion. Right away it relieved my coughing. My appetite picked up wonderfully and it caused my bowels to move more systematically. Really it seemed to affect and relieve the whole system. I felt fine in just a couple days, so I'm like my neighbor now and always praise Lin-O-Nine," continues Mrs. Johnson, who like thousands of happy people, knows how to banish wintry colds and coughs.

Anyone may obtain the same results. Lin-O-Nine is a nice tasting, creamy, snow white Emulsion of Eucalyptus, Flaxseed, Betula, Cassia, Irish Moss and Glycerine, endorsed by doctors and made by the nationally known, 45-year-old Kerr Chemical Co., who gladly send 50c or $1 bottle return mail if you write them at Brentwood, Md. Many druggists have cold remedies of their own, but gladly obtain Lin-O-Nine for you from their local jober if you ask the store manager. Avoid substitutes, particularly if it is a child or elderly person with weak or delicate stomach.—(adv.)

1931 Will See Legislatures Of 44 States Wrestling With Manifold Problems

BY DALE HARRISON.
(Copyright, 1930, by The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—(AP)—The making of law becomes next month 43 state capitols a matter of serious concern.

Every summer—statute writing is a serious affair—these 43 legislatures convened in April by a forty-fourth, Florida—will have adjourned, and an estimated 20,000 new measures will have been acted upon. Only four states—Virginia, Kentucky, Louisiana and Mississippi—will have no legislative sessions next year.

Money and morals are the general headings under which major statutes will be written. Of these, money—taxation, appropriation, debt retirement and public works—dominates.

Specifically, the program groups itself into five classifications:

Taxation.
Prohibition.
Penal reform.
Unemployment relief.
Governmental reform.

Taxation is a vital business in every legislative hall, but 20 states in particular are looking next month to their lawmakers to do concrete things concerning it.

Fourteen states will consider prohibition in one or more of its vexing phases. Not all the contemplated discussion, however, has to do with enforcement or repeal.

Prison Reform.

The matter of prison reform and state policing assumes high importance in 10 states. In two of them, Kansas and Massachusetts, there has arisen a difference of opinion as to the merit of the death penalty for capital crime. Kansas would legalize capital punishment once more. Massachusetts would repeal it.

Arizona, still shuddering over the decapitation of a woman it hanged last spring, will seek "a more humane method of execution." Its governor-elect favors abolition of the death penalty altogether.

Unemployment relief is promised consideration by at least 11 legislatures. Probably others will ponder the problem, once the work of lawmaking strikes its stride. There has, however, been no advance indication of any state-approved relief program other than the encouragement of public and private construction.

What would appear in effect as an offset to any extensive state sponsoring of unemployment relief is the pronounced determination of many new administrations to pare expenditures to the core.

In several states, legislators have been sent to their capitals with the definite dicta to obtain relief from taxation. The opinion in most of the lawmaking centers is that any movement toward extensive expenditure, even under the plea of unemployment relief, will find in economy exponents a forceful foe.

Governmental Reform.

Governmental reform lacks the "human interest" element of such affairs of state as prohibition and unemployment relief, but it stands out next year none the less as a principal business in eight far-flung commonwealths.

Arkansas, among the eight, has the most drastic job. It hopes, in the 60-day session beginning January 12, to effect a complete reorganization of its government. The consolidation of more than 100 boards and departments is contemplated; and the abolition of all state elective offices save governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general, is proposed.

Oklahoma plans further reorganization of its government with the elimination of lesser boards and departments. Wyoming legislators have much the same hope. Alabama's governor-elect is expected to recommend departmental changes. Arizona may create the office of lieutenant-governor and abolish that of legislative examiner.

Consolidation of departments, a trend definitely noticeable, also faces North Carolina. Other states in which the hope for governmental reform is felt are New Jersey and Maine. In the latter state the legislature will have before it a complete survey for consolidation and reorganization.

Blue Laws.

Blue laws, some dating back to the 18th century, will be challenged determinedly in four eastern states—Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Hampshire and Maine.

In Maryland the laws, written with the pen of pre-Revolutionary Puritans, promise indeed to become a major matter before the legislature. In 1920 the laws were liberalized to permit the sale of gasoline and confectionery on the Sabbath, but they still prohibit public performances and gainful labor. In Baltimore particularly the laws are strictly enforced. The Baltimore council, however, has indicated it will support efforts at liberalization.

Pennsylvania organizations which in the past have resisted successfully all efforts to abrogate the Sunday blue laws of 1794, express confidence of continued success. A determined campaign for blue law repeal, however, has been conducted in the large cities.

Miscellaneous Legislation.

There is hardly a state which, if it pursues precedent, will fail to write legislation that might be classified broadly as "different."

New Hampshire would muzzle rumor mongers whose tongues menace the business of banking.

New York state proposes to investigate New York city.

California would prohibit married women from working if their husbands are able-bodied and employed.

New Mexico would abolish the job of her "$25,000 water boy," as the democrats dub Francis C. Wilson, New Mexico's interstate river commissioner.

Arizona wants a port on the Gulf of Lower California with a right of way to it through Mexico.

Several states, particularly Vermont, New Jersey and New Hampshire, propose to do something about billboards.

Wyoming would repudiate the primary in favor of the convention system.

Michigan will re-argue the merit of capital punishment and the whipping post.

A New York-to-Boston express highway will be considered in Connecticut.

States in which prohibition, in one phase or another, will be a subject of lawmaking, are: Missouri, West Virginia, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, California, Wyoming, Colorado, New Jersey, Delaware, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania and Connecticut.

In Missouri the proposal has to do with a tax on malt products for use in the manufacture of home beverages—a tax which its proponents believe would return the state $3,000,000 a year. Michigan's malt tax will come under the fire of prohibitionists.

Definite wet blocs in Indiana and Ohio already have made clear their intention to fight for changes in the liquor laws. Modification or repeal of the enforcement act will be sought in Illinois, where the November referendum was distinctly wet. West Virginia would abolish its prohibition department, not as a social measure but as an economy one.

Repeal of the enforcement act is sought, too, in California and New Jersey. A repeal bill is reported as "almost certain" to be presented in Wyoming. Governor-elect Pinchot opposes repeal in Pennsylvania, but the proposition promises a lively fight.

Congressional reapportionment will concern legislators everywhere, and promises extensive, expensive debate. Motor fuel taxes—the "gas tax" every motorist knows—is considered a certain subject for action in six states, and in five of them—Alabama, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Arizona—it has been proposed that the tax be increased. Kansas alone presents a sentiment for reduction.

Of the making of law here is no end. January is the month and 1931 the year of its new beginning.

Vaudeville Star

Eleanor Durkin, of the famous vaudeville team of Burke and Durkin, which is playing this week at the Georgia theater. Miss Durkin, one of the cleverest comediennes of the day, in private life is Mrs. James Burke, wife of her professional partner. She is also a sister of one of the south's best-known newspaper executives, Martin Durkin, managing editor of the New Orleans Item.

BANKY AND LAROCQUE PROMISE WITTY PLAY

Clever, witty, saucy and most delightfully shocking at times is "Cherries Are Ripe," which will introduce Vilma Banky and Rod LaRocque, the eminent screen notables, in person, to Atlanta theatergoers on Thursday night, January 8, when it will open a three-day engagement at the Erlanger theater, with matinee on Saturday.

The play is founded upon a situation intrinsically interesting and novel. A dissolute young Hungarian, Count Sandor Bathany, traducer extraordinary of many women, is left alone in the country house of an old friend with the latter's young wife. He is assigned to take her if he can by the neurotic, middle-aged husband, who would know the worst and set her free or live henceforth in trusting peace with the who, exposed to the most effective lover of the realm, has proved impregnable. As a love-maker, the guest from Budapest finds that the wife in the country does not succumb readily to his fast line, and therein lies the comedy of a really worthwhile play. Mail orders from local and out-of-town patrons are now being received. The box office seat sale starts Monday morning.

THREE LIVES TOLL OF BANK HOLDUP

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 31.—(AP)—A toll of three lives was paid today in a bloody climax of bank banditry that has terrorized New Orleans during the last year.

It remained for the last day of the year to produce the most vicious and callous of the score of bank attacks by bandits in 1930 that has cost a half dozen lives and the loss of heavy sums.

New Orleans was shaken out of its New Year's festive mood by three white hooded bandits wearing long linen dusters walking into the Third district branch of the Whitney Trust and Savings bank and announcing their entry by a blast from a slug-laden shotgun.

The first shot brought down dead in his tracks Pierre N. Rizan, bank guard, who reached for his pistol at their approach. The bandits then kept up a steady fire from shotgun and pistols until one of them had scooped up $3,100 from the paying teller's cage and had escaped in an automobile manned by a fourth thug.

Gilbert Dietrich, son of a lumberman, was found dying on the floor in front of a receiving teller's window where he stood to make a deposit. He died later in a hospital from slug wounds in the body.

Albert W. Brownson, cashier-teller, had received a pistol bullet in his body and was taken to a hospital, where physicians regarded his wound as mortal.

Immediately after the holdup, the entire police force was thrown on the hunt for the bandits and within an hour detectives had arrested two suspects in a nearby garage. One of them, Owen Couche, jumped from the police automobile and escaped before they reached headquarters.

Later the other, Claude Cefalu, was shot through the mouth and killed by Detective Frank Lannes as he attempted to leap out of the police automobile while being taken to the scene of the holdup.

Police said suspicion pointed strongly to the pair, especially to Couche, who had a fresh wound over the right eye and a bloody handkerchief. Witnesses said one of the bandits had been shot in the face by a richocheting bullet in the bank and that he left with a bloody hood. Three hundred dollars in cash was found hidden in an outhouse to the rear of the dwelling around which Couche fled from the police.

Detectives and policemen were driving hard tonight to recapture Couche and to round up underworld companions of the two suspects.

GERMAN OUTLOOK BRIGHT—BRUENING

BERLIN, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Confidence that the German people will face their political and economic tasks in 1931 with high courage was expressed today by Chancellor Heinrich Bruening in a New Year greeting.

Dr. Bruening painted no bright picture of the year to come, but assured his countrymen it would be difficult and disciplinary.

"We are standing at the threshold between the old and new year like men who are returning from hard, unattractive work and who bear the imprint of this work," Dr. Bruening said, "but who know that tomorrow they must go at it again exactly as before because their task is by no means completed—yes, who know it will never be finished. For politics is one manifestation of life and hence will endure so long as life endures.

"But just as workers who have once tackled a job will not voluntarily drop it half completed, so, too, we will not desist from changing our condition to a better and higher one so long as we possess life and strength. . . ."

Einstein Voices Faith in Youth On Arrival at California Port

BY WALTER B. CLAUSEN.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Dec. 31.—(AP)—Albert Einstein, massive intellect of profound science, arrived in California today with a theory all may understand.

He has faith in the youth today.

"Youth is always the same," he said.

Critics of modern youth were brushed aside by the professor who thinks in time far beyond the ages man is prone to conceive.

Beyond all discussions of science and relativity, he went into childish, ecstatic thrill as he gazed upon the regiment of school children in middies and skirt uniform singing to him from the pier.

"A beautiful illusion," he murmured.

"Ach! He's touched," whispered his wife, the Frau Elsa.

With beaming eyes and tremulous voice the professor turned after watching the band of a hundred musicians and asked:

"Professional?"

"No, school children," several voices replied.

"Ach! Admirable," he murmured.

Then he was asked what he thought of the youth of today, and suggestions modern youth has become wilder and has more liberties.

He smiled serenely and softly said: "Nein. Youth is always, endlessly the same." And he turned again to the rail of the steamer which brought him from Germany. He feasted his eyes on the exuberant youth, singing and waving to him.

The Frau Elsa confided this was the greatest thrill of his whole trip.

REPORT ON TAXES IS GIVEN MAYOR

Atlanta as a corporation raised and expended $14,426,774.55 through the office of Tax Collector R. A. McMurray, according to the annual report of the department filed formally Wednesday afternoon with Mayor I. N. Ragsdale.

The 1929 figure was $15,673,962.65, of which $4,110,692.42 was for bonds sold and loans made and repaid. In 1930 the borough actually had revenues aside from bond and loans to the amount of $11,481,843.56 while in 1929 the total was $11,563,270.23.

A total of $2,234,000 was borrowed and repaid during 1930 as against $1,660,000 for 1929.

Total tax receipts for 1930 including marshal's collections were $6,518,476.47 while for 1929 they were $6,348,169.25.

Water receipts for 1930 were $1,877,917.07 and for 1929 they were $1,783,972.47.

Receipts from licenses including marshal's collections for 1930 were $544,647.56 as against $543,223.54 for 1929.

Atlantans used $1,324,256,000 gallons of water during 1930 as against 11,386,637,000 for 1929. Total receipts of the department including that for water service, etc., was $1,936,000 for 1930, according to W. Zode Smith, while for 1929 they aggregated $1,877,419. Cost of operation and maintenance of the department for 1930 was set at $488,236 by Mr. Smith, veteran general manager.

FOUR COLLEGES INVITE STUDENT FEDERATION

No decision was made as to the choice for 1931.

Plans for promoting further friendly relations with students of foreign countries occupied part of Wednesday's sessions, Miss Eleanor Wilson, vice president of the federation, announcing plans for an English-speaking team of Turkish students to debate with American teams in the United States.

Capitol Offers Film Sensation, Free Love, Today

The sensational success of Broadway picture palaces, "Free Love," with Conrad Nagel and Genevieve Tobin in the leading roles, opens its Atlanta engagement at the Capitol theater today.

This picture, now running in one of New York's leading theaters, attracted unusual attention because it deals with the same theme which was the basis of the recent dispute between Bishop Manning and Judge Ben Lindsey.

The story told on the screen is a daringly frank symposium on the evils of present day marriage and divorce customs. It does not attempt to present a solution, but leaves the audience to work out, each for themselves the logical solution of the problem presented.

It is a splendidly produced and directed picture while the work of Nagel and Tobin is, it is needless to state, polished and artistic throughout.

HOUSE HEADS REAFFIRM MUSCLE SHOALS STAND

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Opposition of house leadership to government construction of transmission lines for distributing Muscle Shoals power was reaffirmed today by Chairman Snell, of the rules committee.

Snell, who has been active in Muscle Shoals negotiations, said he was eager for an agreement when the conferees meet January 6, but will "fight to the last ditch" against writing into law specific direction for the government to build lines to dispose of surplus power.

"I would be willing to accept a compromise providing that if the government cannot sell power at the switchboard after a reasonable time it may come back and ask congress for appropriations to bill the lines," said the New Yorker.

Snell said the question of transmission lines is the only remaining point of disagreement between the house and senate.

Rain Will Fall On New Year's, Forecast Says

Cloudiness, followed by rain, with temperatures around freezing, was the best the weather forecaster could promise for Atlanta and vicinity on New Year's, according to the report at the local bureau Wednesday. Virtually the same brand of weather as experienced on New Year's Eve will prevail today, with temperatures officially predicted at from 28 to 38 degrees, but with a vague hope of "slowly rising."

Some philosophy was included in the whimsical observation of the forecaster, however, when he pointed out that it requires damp, cold weather to whet the appetite for the proverbial hog jowl and black-eyed peas that mean so much to the regular Georgian.

Continuation of Low Prices Foreseen Unless Farmers Make Drastic Cuts.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(AP)—A continuation of relatively low prices for the cotton crop of 1931 unless farmers sharply reduce acreage was predicted today by the farm board.

In a report on the outlook for American cotton, the board expressed the opinion that the price of cotton during the next 10 years may be expected to "average considerably lower than during the last 10 years."

"It is quite probable," the report said, "that the supply of cotton for 1931-32 will be at least as large if not larger than for 1930-31. Substantial improvement in the price for cotton of the 1931 crop depends, therefore, upon a recovery in business activity to normal, or better than normal by late 1931, unless farmers reduce the acreage of cotton next spring to a greater extent than they have done in any previous year of low cotton prices.

"The greatest reduction in cotton acreage that has occurred in any single season during the last 30 years has been 15 per cent. World consumption of American cotton during the current year is not expected to be larger than in 1929-30. The yield per acre in 1931 is expected to be at least 5 per cent above that of 1930.

"If these expectations prove correct and the decrease in acreage next spring should be as much as 15 per cent, the total supply of American cotton next year will still be at least as much as this year.

Prospects Poor.

"There is no indication yet, however, that farmers plan to decrease acreage more than 8 to 10 per cent. This is not sufficient to bring about the needed adjustment of supply to prospective demand next year.

"Neither is there any positive assurance that business will return to normal levels by late in 1931. The outlook, therefore, is for a continuation of relatively low prices for the cotton crop of 1931, unless a drastic cut in acreage is made by farmers."

In the long-time outlook, the board said, declining price levels for all commodities, increased use of machinery in cotton growing and increased production of cotton in Russia. All point to lower prices than have prevailed since the World War.

This prospect, the report continued, "makes it imperative for many southern farmers permanently to readjust their farming programs so that cotton will not be their only source of cash income."

Advice to Farmer.

The cotton farmer was advised to increase production of vegetables, eggs, hogs and milk for home use and for local markets where they exist.

To reduce the cost per pound of cotton production, the board recommended the use of seed of improved high yielding varieties of about one-inch staple and the retirement of low-producing land.

The board suggested:

"Building up soil fertility through use of legumes and farm manures.

"Using pure seed and maintaining its purity by co-operating with other growers in planting only one variety in the territory served by a single gin.

"Planning the arrangement of fields so as to provide for greater use of labor-saving machinery and the cultivation of larger fields.

"Increasing the number of poultry, hogs, and milk cows as a source of food and also for additional cash income where market facilities permit."

The bankers of the south were urged to assist farmers in lowering the costs of producing cotton and to extend the practice of one-variety communities.

Farmers willing to reduce their cash outlay for 1931 and the future years, the board said, by increasing the production of vegetable and feed crops, etc., "are likely to prove a better credit risk next year and over the next few years than farmers who continue on the old basis of cotton and corn."

RICH COUPLE FOUND DEAD IN FARM HOME

MARSHALL, Ill., Dec. 31.—(AP)—Supposedly the victims of robbers, Mr. and Mrs. John Welch, wealthy land owners, were found shot to death today in their farm home, six miles east of here.

The bodies were found by Elmer Flowers and Harry Elliott, owners of a neighboring farm, when they entered the home after failing to receive any response to their knocks.

UP TO THE COUNTY BOARD.

Mayor-elect Key struck the nail squarely on the head when in his address before the Rotary Club Tuesday he termed as "an important necessity" the early start of construction on the new sewer system for Atlanta and vicinity.

The city has already paid out more than $400,000 for the survey on which the new system is to be based, and it is of vital importance that the materialization of its recommendations should be accomplished without unnecessary delay.

The mayor-elect declares that the money would be found somewhere to start the work if the proper cooperation is assured from the county and from the various communities which will be served by the new system.

He properly takes the position that the county should render every possible aid in the work. His statement that "If the county government will furnish labor and equipment for excavating, backfilling, etc., the cost will be cut down to half, and the project will be within reach of Atlanta in a short time," puts it squarely up to the county commission that it make it known that it will co-operate in this vital work to the fullest extent of its ability.

It is not asked for a dollar in cash, but only for the labor and equipment with which it is fully supplied. In view of the fact that it receives 85 per cent of its revenue from the city of Atlanta it should be willing, if necessary, to devote its full force of convicts and its entire equipment to the completion of this essential project, much of which lies outside the city limits.

The mayor correctly holds that every community which is to be served by the new sewerage system should bear its proportionate share of the cost. This they could easily do through a bond issue, or by the levy of special sewer taxes as authorized by the recently adopted constitutional amendment. Such a tax would amount to very little to the individual property owners, but would easily provide ample funds to care for the share that should be paid by each community.

Mayor-elect Key in thus outlining the conditions under which this vital work can be gotten under way and pushed to completion undoubtedly strikes the key note to the situation.

With the city of Atlanta furnishing the necessary cash to start the work going, the county supplying the labor and equipment and the communities to be served putting up their share of the expense as the work proceeds, this all-important public improvement can soon be accomplished.

The first step is for the county commission to notify the city that its co-operation will be forthcoming. The members of the board have heretofore indicated their approval of the suggestion and it is now up to them to take formal action accordingly.

Pluck up your courage and tackle the work of the New Year "heart within and God o'erhead!" We have come through worse times than these, head up and full of glory! Remember the Civil War times and laugh at your present troubles.

President Hoover, on New Year's Day, will be warranted to view with suspicion those senators who wish him a "Happy New Year!"

THE PROMISE OF 1931.

The advent of a new year has its peculiar significance to every alert soul of an intelligent society. In an earlier day it had the general character of a day of "new resolutions;" the day when one "swore off" from his looser and losing habits, and announced a reformed front to his family and associates; and even where the new deal was more or less temporary it had points of merit.

That taking stock of one's self has largely passed from the popular agenda of the day. One looks upon New Year's Day now more as an observation post from which to view through environing circumstances the prospect ahead for better times and larger common happiness. The people exchange wishes for "a prosperous New Year" and that sums up the universal hope.

Civilized men have been passing through notoriously troublesome times economically in the past year. The laws of nature and the operations of social mechanics have defied and defeated theoretical economics and exerted their inescapable gravitations upon the inflated policies and speculations of trade. The deflations have been greater than the wisest or the most cautious would have predicted and the business of the world at large has had to come down to hard pan and arrange to start once more from the base line of the economic capacity of the common man to consume.

The civilized nations, therefore, must march into the New Year with a new dedication to economic truths as old as the Joseph era in Egypt. By better obedience to them they can forge out of the omnipresent depression afflicting both capital and labor, and reach an adjustment between the industrial employment of both that should satisfy the logical and just demands of both.

Here in the United States we should be able to arrive at those adjustments more rapidly and successfully than can the people of any other nation. We have an unlimited volume of profitable and needed public works that ought to be under construction for many years to come. We have the ample capital resources and community credits with which to accomplish those works. And while accomplishing them we could give full work and full wages to every willing worker of our population. They in turn will consume the properly balanced productions of our farms and factories.

These are facts that need no bolster of arguments. They lie plainly on the surface of our national situation. They need only the concerted action of our political and business leaders to realize them and to cause the people of the nation to welcome 1931 as the dawn year of a new epoch of American plenty and happiness.

BILLIONS ON THE JOB.

If the various governments and great business interests really release five billions of money to speed up human employment work the country will enter upon a prolonged period of business activity.

That huge sum of money means much more than the bare figure implies. It means the stimulation which its circulation through the channels of trade will give to all the industries of the nation. The daily activities of a dollar bill in the life of a community, when loosed from a bank vault or the hands of a miser, reveals one of the most romantic of all careers.

It was once a favorite practice in the schools to have the advanced pupils write what each would imagine to be "the daily life of a dollar"—what it would pay, or purchase, or provide in the way of personal, family or community comforts and pleasures. It was worthwhile education of the young in the good or foolish uses of money.

Now one can profitably exercise his imagination upon what five billions of dollars will do to employ labor, to buy materials, to speed up agriculture and factories, to make merchants busy and to fill homes with comfort and happiness. The coming year, therefore, should go far to restore the economic equilibrium and recover the people from the natural pessimism that accompanies even a dumb panic.

Cabinet Crises.

The last cabinet crisis in France was No. 86 in the 60 years which the third French republic had been established. It was the 14th which M. Doumergue had confronted since he assumed the presidency in June, 1924. A little arithmetic shows then that a French politician stays minister less than eight and a half months, as a general average, and that within the last seven years the average has fallen to a little over five and a half months.

The most disparate figures go into making these statistics. At least two ministries have lasted over three years and a good number about two years. But the average is brought down by those which have lasted but a few months or weeks, and by those of not more than one or two days. Of the latter variety there have been three within these seven years, headed successively by Messrs. Fraudcois, Marsal, Harriot and Chautemps. The gala year for cabinet crises was 1926, when they kept tumbling in pace with the falling franc.

The Gaekwar's "Mot."

Public opinion in England has been struck with the impeccable English, the quick-wittedness and the logic of many of the Indian delegates to the Round Table Conference. Some of the Hindu delegates proved themselves genuine orators. One of the wittiest among the princes is the Gaekwar of Baroda. He knows England and English society almost as well as the Aga Khan. A story is told of him which reveals him to be possessed of a keen presence of mind. On one of his earlier visits, some years ago, the Gaekwar was present at an official reception, followed by a ball in the course of which he danced with a celebrated beauty. The gallant prince did not let the occasion go by to try to make a little impression on the lady's heart. After dancing they sat down near a window to converse more at their ease. Scarcely had they sat down when a gentleman passed, who bowed. The Gaekwar recognized the gentleman as a former high British official in India, with whom he had a serious row at home. "There goes the man I detest most in the whole world," he told the lady.

"But, sir," exclaimed she, "he's my husband." The Gaekwar, who didn't know this little detail, was not put out in the least. Giving his partner a particularly fond look, he added: "That's exactly why I detest him."

Health Talks

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY.

DILETTANTES IN THE DOCTOR BUSINESS AND AMATEURS IN HEALTH PROMOTION SHOULD NOT GET SWELLED HEADS.

A news item last summer told of the rescue of a victim from the surf and the resuscitation efforts of the life guards who had rescued him. While they were carrying on artificial respiration in the proper way (except for the hand under the head) an ambulance arrived, and in it an inhalator. The ambulance doctor wished to apply the inhalator. But the heroic excited and shall we say rather bumptious life guards waved the mere doctor aside. They did not purpose to have any such machine used on the victim. They informed the doctor that his inhalator thing was dangerous.

And so the victim died.

The guards were taken to the police station, presumably for questioning." Probably they were not very severely disciplined for their officious conduct. The news item ended with the taking of the life guards to the police station. There was no subsequent news. Maybe the life guards were shot at sunrise; or maybe they were given a banquet or memorial of some kind by the reporters who work up human interest stories. How did these life guards get that way? How do certain firemen get their reputations as demon life savers? What makes so many Boy Scout instructors and Red Cross first aid teachers so cocksure of themselves and so naive in explaining to a mere doctor how these little tricks should be done?

I have received a fine collection of amusing letters from just such folk, who tell me, as though I were a supplicant for knowledge, just how and why they do thus and so in the resuscitation work. I am afraid a good many doctors are in a position that compels them to submit to such patronizing by the dilettantes who are so complacent and so cocksure.

The life guards who prevented the ambulance doctor from administering the oxygen-carbon dioxide had probably heard that lung-motors, pulmotors and similar machines are dangerous—they are in fact dangerous. They meant well, but the grievous offence they committed was simply presumption; they readily opposed their own amateurish knowledge to the professional or expert knowledge of a doctor. That is quite characteristic of the general state of things in this country today. We have so many dilettantes assuming the functions of doctors and health authorities, that it is only natural some of them should begin to believe they know just as much as a common, ordinary doctor does and probably more than many.

Policemen have a similar streak of conceit in them, especially when they have had six easy lessons in resuscitation or first aid.

Something should be done to knock the conceit out of all these amateurs who get swelled head.

The victim who died while the life guards held off the doctor and his life-saving inhalation did not die in vain, let us hope. Maybe his sacrifice will be a great lesson to other first aid workers who happen to have a little knowledge.

HOOVER PLAN HIT AS CARRIERS' AID

ments, no name can get to the senate without first having been selected by the president of the United States.

"There is rapidly growing a public opinion that the president determines the action of these independent commissions and such opinion will not be dissipated by the issuance of the present statement of the president."

The outspoken Michigan republican, however, gave little indication of what course he will pursue, if any, to prevent consummation of the agreement.

Unless there is further legislation by congress the interstate commerce commission has authority to approve the merger. Couzens has a resolution pending, to suspend all mergers until congress can enact further legislation, but although it passed the senate last session it has not been approved by the house.

There Is No Hope of Ventilation Until People Get Sick of Foul Air

By Robert Quillen

Each new day brings a new revelation of corruption.

If there is no spectacular uncovering of dishonor in high places, there are news reports from obscure towns in the hinterland that reveal the thefts and briberies and treacheries of minor officials.

A bank is wrecked by the great man of a small town; a cashier is caught short; a municipal or county official is trapped when his books are audited; a servant of the law has accepted bribes to leave crime unmolested; a criminal has been exposed because he refused to pay further blackmail.

Each day brings its tale of rottenness, and the same story is so often repeated that readers seldom do more than scan the headlines.

If you have a crate of eggs and select a dozen at random and all of these are bad, what is your conclusion?

When investigation of trusted servants, in public and private business—big and little, high and low—reveals a uniform corruption, the inevitable conclusion is that rottenness is general—that departments still above reproach are departments not yet investigated.

The people have lost faith. They are cynics almost to a man. In a day's search you will not find one citizen of ordinary intelligence who trusts the men in charge of public affairs.

Is the distrust of the people surprising? What reason have they to trust anybody?

They know that big and little agents of the law accept bribes and demand blackmail from the lawless; they know that saloons, gambling houses, rum runners—even harlots and burglars—pay police officers to escape prosecution. They know that killers go unpunished if they have money enough to pay for immunity. They know that gangs of thieves grow rich by collecting tribute from men in legitimate business while the police look on and do nothing.

They know, in short, that all laws are dead letters except one: Pay the price and do as you please. Men chosen to protect the people encourage crime by giving it license to do business—at a price.

Taxed almost beyond endurance—insufferably annoyed by meddling officialdom—the people still are betrayed and left defenseless.

What is the explanation?

First, that men who would not steal from an individual or betray a friend will steal from the public and betray a public trust.

Second, that the common craze for easy money, plus a system that makes bribery and blackmail tempting and easy, corrupts men who would remain decent in private life.

Third, that public indifference to public business and cynical scorn of old-fashioned standards have made honor seem unimportant.

And there is no hope of relief—by law or by reform—until the public soul is sick and revolted by the stench of corruption and so made to scorn and abominate all dishonor and clamor for a new birth of decency.

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

BY MOLLIE MERRICK.

(Special Dispatch to The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Dec. 31.—Now that we have had two successful pictures without women, I was more than interested in William Beaudine's forthcoming picture with nine women and no men.

In fact, the tentative title is "Women Without Men," or "Without Men." After hearing the cast which Beaudine has selected I have no doubt that the men will not be missed at all.

Evelyn Brent is the leading woman. And Irene Rich is the head of the ambulance corps which includes the personnel of the story. It's a war episode and this ambulance unit gets side tracked on a wrong road in heavy shell fire and land up in the front trenches instead of 25 miles behind the lines, where they are supposed to be. Two ex-ambulance girls wrote it—Gertrude Orr and Doris Malloy—and they know their ground.

Added to all this is Louise Fazenda as comedienne and Lilyan Tashman as the hard-boiled chorus girl who contributes so much vitality and ginger to the story. (They're having a hard time about the profanity which such a girl would necessarily contribute. The censors are very rigid about all this.)

June Clyde is the little blonde lead. You haven't seen her in many pictures as yet, but she's a darling and has a beauty and lots of dramatic ability if the tests I saw yesterday mean anything.

Let's see—that's five—we have a few more girls to account for. Oh. I forgot Marcelline Day who will look rather ravishing in an overseas uniform. And the Keating twins—because the script calls for an identical pair of twins. Then there's the character of the snoop—and Mae Busch and Dale Fuller have both been given tryouts on this one. But no appointment has been made for either.

In making of pictures the love scene is considered the most dangerous angle. Audiences have a tendency to titter when the hero becomes impassioned and plants a fervent kiss on the heroine's lips.

Beaudine gets away from this danger in "Without Men." But, on the other hand, how is he going to get the sex angle which is, we are told, the heart of box-office appeal?

The two pictures of the caste exclusively men were hung on friendship, loyalty and personal bravery. This story is a red-hot love epic, even if the men aren't shown. How is he going to do it? He let me in on the trick and it's pretty clever I can tell you.

The funniest part of this story is the fact that agents peddled it about Hollywood for months and it was turned down by all the leading studios because it was too radically different. Then a man who had never been in motion picture production before, Nate Gumbin, read it and promptly bought it for a song.

A few weeks later one of our larger producing units offered him a sum which would have netted him a profit of $23,000. He studied awhile and then said:

"If it's good enough for them it's good enough for me."

There's a bit of new blood coming into movie making.

OLD MAN 1930 DIES AFTER VARIED YEAR

1931 should be a good year, and for this reason, if you believe in those things:

If You Are Superstitious.

Suppose you take the numerals 1930. Adding them up in simple arithmetic, you inevitably get the result—13. That always has been the symbol of luckless things. And, on the other hand, numerology always has insisted that the numeral 14 is one of extremely good omen. That being so, is it not a fact that 1931 adds up exactly that sum total?

So, perhaps it is only natural that we should look gladly upon this new little fellow who sizes up expertly. Why not? Every reason indicates that during the coming year everything will be smoothed out, and good times return. Perhaps that is the heritage left us by the old fellow, 1930. After all, he wasn't so bad, and it wasn't exactly all his fault. Which thought prompted this story instead of one about the usual resolutions that are caricatured from time to time.

And, you may believe us, we wish all a happy New Year. It's just bound to have a whole lot of good in it, and, it people look at things in the right way, it ought to be the turning point of this part of the century.

CLUBS AND INDIVIDUALS "WATCH" OLD YEAR DEPART

Clubs, fraternities, lodges and individual families Wednesday night "watched" the old year pass into the limbo of forgotten things and greeted the youngster, 1931, in much the same manner that other similar events have been observed, with whistles and horns, fireworks and gayety.

While every social organization in the city had some program of its own, the churches were not unmindful of the significance of the passing of the old year and the opportunity for invocation of the blessings of that to follow. Churches holding special exercises Wednesday night were All Saints' Episcopal, Dr. W. W. Memminger in charge of communion and hymnal services; Ponders Avenue Baptist church, which held a "homecoming" and watch service through midnight; and a five-hour prayer service at the Peoples'. Evangelical Mission, with the Rev. Sam Haynes in charge.

At 7:30 o'clock New Year's morning sunrise communion will be held in the Covenant Presbyterian church, the Rev. Herman L. Turner, pastor, in charge.

Holiday was declared in various private and public organizations in Atlanta, including the city hall, capitol and for part of the day in the federal building. Only two mail deliveries will be made during the day—one in the central business area and the other in the residential sections, it was announced by Postmaster Edwin K. Large.

Several downtown stores have declared the day a holiday, among them being Rich's, Inc.; Davison-Paxon Company, J. P. Allen, Muse and Parks-Chambers.

BUFF REINSTATED TO GRADY POSITION

Treatment in the department sometimes takes six months. The new doctors could not take up treatment as effectively as one familiar with the case from its inception could, and, therefore, I recommended that the departments be re-established. The committee agreed."

Dr. Buff made no statement Wednesday night other than that he would continue to serve, giving his best work to the hospital.

Text of the letter to Steve R. Johnston, superintendent of Grady, concerning reinstatement of Dr. Buff follows:

"The hospital and charities committee recently abolished the department headed by Dr. Buff.

"Since that time the entire committee has gone over this proposition and feels without doubt that it is to the best interest of the hospital that this department be re-established and Dr. Buff placed in charge.

"Will you, therefore, please have Dr. Buff notified of this to be effective December 31, 1930.

"This appointment has the approval of each and every member of the hospital and charities committee."

PERUVIAN TRIBUNAL EXONERATES GROW

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Lieutenant Commander Harold B. Grow, an American who was director-general of Peruvian sea and land aviation under the overthrown Leguia regime, was exonerated by a special court today of taking sides in the recent civil conflict.

LEGGE PREDICTS 'SHORTS" DOOM

Farm Board Head Says Depressive Selling Should Be Ended.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(AP)—The dispute between the grain men and the farm board which marked most of 1930 drew to a climactic pitch as the year waned and brought a prediction today from Chairman Legge that eventually short selling must be eliminated.

Responding to a statement by Peter B. Carey, a vice president of the Chicago Board of Trade, in which that exchange was aligned with others in outspoken opposition to farm board operations, Legge called for further federal regulation of the exchanges.

The chairman considered it improbable that further governmental regulation might cause the exchange to close its doors.

Restriction of short selling was Legge's expressed desire. He added, however, that he believed restrictive measures could not be enforced and that they would not be an effectual damper upon market manipulation. In view of this, he suggested eventual prohibition of short selling.

The chairman said that "properly regulated" the grain exchanges had a useful function. He proposed that their rules and regulations be limited to those approved by the secretary of agriculture.

"The exchanges," he said, "should not be permitted to establish their own rules, which obviously are to the interest of the traders rather than to the producer or consumer, except as approved by the secretary of agriculture."

Legge added he believed the secretary agreed with him.

He suggested that the three laws now affecting trading, and the three bureaus which administer them, be consolidated. Grain men would welcome this action, he said.

If the board of trade should close, Legge said he was confident a substitute would be found. He said live stock with a volume in dollars and cents much larger than wheat was handled in Chicago yards. Grain could also be sold "over the counter," he added.

CHAPLAIN LADLOW FIRED FROM POST AT FEDERAL PEN

Mr. Bates said in Washington, adding that the alleged infractions on the part of Chaplain Ladlow covered a period of several months.

Chaplain Ladlow has been on duty at the prison a little over five years, having been appointed on December 3, 1925, to succeed the late Rev. Joseph Asbury Sewell. Previous to his appointment he was an officer of the Salvation Army, it being reported Wednesday night that he merely had been placed on furlough by the army for the period of his service at the prison. It could not be learned Wednesday night whether he will return from that furlough.

Ladlow Is Silent.

Beyond saying that he had received no "official notice" of his dismissal, Chaplain Ladlow would not discuss his discharge. He was located at the home he occupies adjacent to the prison grounds. He referred inquiries to Warden A. C. Aderholt, who had previously declined to talk about the case.

"Have you been dismissed, then?" Ladlow was asked.

"I'm still here," he replied, a screen door locked between the chaplain, a newspaper reporter and a photographer.

"But are you still on duty at the prison?"

"I have nothing to say whatever."

The dismissed chaplain had general charge of religious activities of the penitentiary, where approximately 4,000 federal prisoners are incarcerated. He was aided by a Catholic priest and a Jewish Rabbi.

NO PARTICULARS GIVEN BY JUSTICE DEPARTMENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—Chaplain Ladlow of the Atlanta federal penitentiary has been dismissed from the service for irregularities in his conduct at the prison, it was learned here late today from the department of justice. No particulars were given out in the case due to the absence from the city of Sanford Bates, director of the federal prison bureau.

In response to a question as to whether or not Ladlow would be prosecuted should an investigation, at present being made in Atlanta by Warden Aderholt show that the former chaplain was guilty of a crime against the United States laws, it was stated that nothing could be said until the probe was completed. At the same time it was denied that there was any indication that the matter would be hushed up, or that any attempt to do this would be permitted.

It is understood here that the case has been placed in the hands of the United States district attorney at Atlanta and that the question of prosecution lies with him and with Director Bates who is expected to take some action as soon as he returns to this city. Mr. Bates is at present in New York and is not expected back in until Monday.

Officials at the department asserted that they did not know the nature of the offense with which Ladlow is charged, the dismissal coming as the result of recommendations made by Warden Aderholt.

Sinking Ship's Crew Saved by Steamer

LONDON, Dec. 31.—(AP)—The British steamer Viceroy of India notified Lloyds by radio today that she had rescued the crew of the sinking Greek steamer Theodoros Bulgaris in the Bay of Biscay and that the vessel had been abandoned.

ONE MAN'S DEATH FREES TWO OTHERS

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 31.—(AP)—State charges against John C. Pritchard, former director of public utilities in St. Louis, and George B. Heath, former chief engineer of the utilities department in the Ryckoff $157,000 false pretense case, will be dismissed on account of the death of their co-defendant, A. M. Ryckoff, it was announced today by Circuit Attorney Franklin Miller.

Ryckoff, Chicago contractor who died there yesterday, was to go to trial in circuit court here next Monday on indictments charging him with obtaining $157,000 by false pretenses from the city of St. Louis by overcharging on street lighting installation contracts. Pritchard and Heath were charged with approving Ryckoff's bills.

Within a short time after the circuit attorney's announcement, Mayor Victor Miller announced he would reappoint Pritchard, with the understanding Pritchard would reinstate Heath.

Matthews Will Succeed Nash In DeKalb County Post Today

New Chief

A. W. LILLY
New DeKalb Police Chief.

General Reorganization, Including Reduction of Police Force, Schedul To Go Into Effect.

C. A. Matthews, prominent Decatur businessman, today will succeed L. T. Y. Nash, of Stone Mountain, as commissioner of roads and revenues of DeKalb county. Mr. Matthews Wednesday announced a program of reorganization for his administration, including the cutting down of the county police force from nine to six men, exclusive of the chief.

A. W. Lilly, formerly of Bodeker's National Detective Agency, will become DeKalb county police chief today; J. C. Davis will succeed Hugh Burgess as county attorney, and D. G. Jackson will take the place of W. E. Butler as clerk of the county commissioner, Mr. Matthews said. The only present county policeman who will be retained during Mr. Matthews' administration is C. L. Phillips, the commissioner-elect said.

Mr. Matthews said that the reorganization of the county administration will extend into the county chain gang and other county activities. He has been sworn in as commissioner by Judge V. S. Morgan, ordinary, and has received his commission.

The DeKalb county grand jury is scheduled to meet Friday for the purpose of setting 1931 county salaries.

The DeKalb county police force has not had a chief for several months, since Lewis Whitley returned to his duties with the Atlanta detective department.

"I expect to operate DeKalb county affairs on a cash basis," Mr. Matthews said Wednesday. "My administration will be a conservative one, and I hope to maintain the roads and highways as good as possible."

RAILWAY PLACES BIG STEEL ORDER

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 31.—(AP) Order for 50,750 tons of steel rail and approximately 10,000 tons of rail fastenings was placed with the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company here today, by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company.

Announcement of the order, delivery of which is to begin in January, was made by W. R. Cole, president of the Louisville and Nashville, in a telegram to Victor H. Hanson, publisher of the Birmingham News and Age Herald.

Industrial leaders estimated value of the order at approximately $2,500,000 with steel rails selling now at around $43 a ton.

The order is expected to result in the early reopening of the rail mill of the Tennessee company and the return to work of between 1,000 and 1,500 men, directly and indirectly affected by the operation of the rail mill, which has been closed now for several weeks.

The order is sufficient to provide work for 60 days with the Tennessee company accustomed to turning out 1,000 tons of rail daily. In addition the company is understood to have between 75,000 and 100,000 tons of unfilled orders on file which will be produced when the rail mill is reopened.

INTER-SOUTHERN SALE DISTRIBUTION NEARS

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 31.—(AP)—At the request of the American National bank, of Nashville, escrow agent in the sale of stock of the Inter-Southern Life Insurance Company, of Louisville, United States District Judge John J. Gore today set January 10 as the date for a hearing to show cause, if any, why the $2,192,000 realized from the sale should not be distributed.

The court recently approved the sale of Inter-Southern stock in which Caldwell & Co., Nashville investment banking house, now in receivership, was interested directly or indirectly. The price was $1.50 a share, and the proceeds were deposited with the American National bank as escrow agent.

The bank's petition set out that the stock certificates have been turned over to the purchaser, the Keystone Holding Company, of Hammond, Ind., that the bank now holds the proceeds from the sale, and that demand has been made on the bank that the $2,192,000 be distributed to depositors of stock.

Daughter of Virginia Governor To Marry

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 31.—(AP) Suzanne Pollard, daughter of the governor of Virginia, has entertained the president of the United States and other high officials without embarrassment, but today she preferred not to appear before a deputy city clerk.

A marriage license was issued bearing the names of Miss Pollard and of Herbert Lee Boatwright, Jr., Washington attorney, whose nuptials on January 3 will climax Virginia's social season. But the youngest first lady to preside in the historic executive mansion here did not appear in the clerk's office when the license was obtained. Instead she signed an affidavit before a notary public in the governor's mansion and sent Mr. Boatwright alone to get the necessary document.

EXAMINERS REACH CLARKSDALE BANK

CLARKSDALE, Miss., Dec. 31.—(AP)—Affairs of the Planters National Bank and Planters Trust & Savings bank, of Clarksdale, closed yesterday to protect depositors after heavy withdrawals, were today taken over by Russell E. Mooney, of Memphis, national bank examiner, and C. J. Johnson, of Jackson, state bank examiner. They said they had no statement to make as conditions of the closed institutions had not been fully investigated.

NEW HOPE, ALABAMA, INSTITUTION CLOSED

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 31.—(AP)—Dent F. Green, state superintendent of banks, today announced that the Bank of New Hope, in Madison county, had closed its doors due to "frozen assets" and steady withdrawals.

W. E. Butler, president of the bank, in his last statement to the state banking department reported deposits of $50,236. The bank's capital stock was listed at $25,000, with a surplus of $8,000.

Affairs of the bank have been taken over by the state banking department, Mr. Green said.

TWO CLOSED GEORGIA BANKS EXPECTED TO REOPEN SOON

State Superintendent of Banking A. B. Mobley Wednesday announced that the Union Banking Company, of Douglas, and the Cochran Banking Company, of Cochran, expected to reopen soon.

Mr. Mobley said he had been informed by stockholders of the two banks that they expected to open soon, and added that his department was lending every possible aid.

The Union Banking Company, which operated branches at Broxton and Nichols, closed its doors on December 20, while the Cochran bank closed on November 14, according to Mr. Mobley.

GRAND JURY INDICTS NEGROES IN KILLINGS

Two murder cases and a number of burglaries and robberies featured indictments returned Wednesday by the Fulton county grand jury. Forrest Reid, alias Turk, and Simmie Ellison, alias Ellington, were charged with slaying Sam Bowers, alias "Shorty Pick," on October 26, and Jessie Gibson was indicted on a charge of killing Mitchell Mills on December 27.

Homer Shields and Bill Leech were indicted on a charge of burglarizing Mangels, Inc., 60 Whitehall, and stealing clothes valued at $122.26, on Christmas Day. Walter Haley, Thomas Reagan, Albert Davidson and Jesse Williams were charged with burglarizing the store of W. E. Blalock on December 22.

W. D. Davis was indicted on a charge of robbery. Davis robbed Isaac Nerenbaum of $301 belonging to the Capital Shoe Stores Corporation, 55 Peachtree, on December 20, according to the true bill. Davis was caught when C. O. Wade, a news vendor, tackled the alleged bandit as he left the store, it was said.

Morris Plan Company of Georgia Observes 20th Anniversary in 1931

The Morris Plan Company of Georgia will celebrate its twentieth anniversary in 1931. This company was established in 1911 by Woods W. White, whose memory it perpetuates since his death in 1928. It is the second oldest of 180 Morris Plan banks, companies and branches operating in 150 cities in the United States, with combined annual loan volume of approximately $260,000,000 and combined savings deposits exceeding $7,000,000.

Since the establishment of the first Morris Plan bank by Arthur J. Morris in Norfolk, Va., in 1910, with original capital at that time of $20,000, Morris Plan banks and companies have grown to their present prominence and have loaned more than $1,700,000,000 to nearly 8,000,000 people. During the same period the public has deposited and withdrawn more than $1,000,000,000 in Morris Plan savings.

A class of financiers known as "loan sharks" had operated almost without restraint until the establishment of the Morris Plan 20 years ago. It was to combat the activities of these nefarious money mongers that the Morris Plan was conceived. Its value as a community asset was quickly recognized and more than 3,000 prominent citizens of the United States are directors of the Morris Plan institutions serving their communities. That there was a demand for such an institution is shown by the fact that the Morris Plan has dealt with at least one out of every 5,000,000 of the 35,000,000 families in the United States.

The Morris Plan Company of Georgia has served an increasing number of people every year for 20 years and 1930 was no exception to the rule. Its business last year showed an increase of approximately 11 per cent in loans over 1929 and an increase of over 100 per cent in savings deposits.

The Morris Plan Company of Georgia was a forerunner in installment financing, and with the growing popularity of reducing obligations by regular partial payments, it has perfected a highly attractive plan for the use of individuals desiring money for future needs. Until a few years ago it rarely happened that people borrowed more than a few hundred dollars from the Morris Plan. In recent years, however, people have learned of the flexibility of the Morris Plan and many who have previously borrowed elsewhere in amounts ranging from $1,000 to $5,000 are now borrowing from the Morris Plan Company, where they can reduce their notes in convenient payments at regular intervals out of their incomes, instead of perhaps having to liquidate some investment in order to take care of a proportionately large and thoroughly inconvenient debt in a lump sum all at once.

New savings accounts numbering 4,744 were opened in 1930, bringing the total to 11,172. Many of these savings deposits have been assigned as collateral at face value on Morris Plan loans, as is evidenced by the fact that approximately $536,000 is being used in that manner. Approximately $400,000 was deposited in 1930 in savings accounts not being used as collateral on loans. The Morris Plan Company of Georgia made more than 5,500 loans totaling approximately $1,350,000 in 1930, the average loan being $253 in 1930 as against $222 in 1929.

SETTLE'S DEATH LAID TO POISON

Circumstances Surrounding White House Aide's Demise Still Mystery.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Poison was given as the cause of the death of Lieutenant Bruce Settle, naval aide at the White House, in a certificate of transportation issued today for removal of the body to Tennessee.

Meanwhile, the results of an autopsy performed at the naval hospital were withheld and a coroner's jury ordered impaneled. An inquest will be held on Saturday.

Settle was found dead at his desk in the navy yard Monday. It was conjectured at first that he died from injuries received in a fall from a mezzanine floor of the building in which his office was located.

Police discovered later that his automobile had figured in at least one accident on Sunday. This, they said, was insufficient to damage the machine as much as they found it had been and they are working on a theory that he was the driver of a car which sped through a safety zone on Sunday night and disappeared after injuring four persons.

A report spread that a bottle of poison was found on Settle's desk, but officials at the navy yard declined to discuss the matter.

The automobile was held by District of Columbia police. It had a broken headlight, dented hood and damaged radiator.

Officials To Open New Line Today

ATLANTA-TO-MIAMI PLANES FLY TODAY

of the New Year's Day services to take place in Florida.

Big Welcomes Arranged.

Programs welcoming the officials of the company have been arranged at all points south of Atlanta the line will serve, these cities including Macon, Jacksonville, Daytona Beach, Orlando, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Palm Beach and Miami. The St. Petersburg program, which is typical of the arrangements which have been perfected at all points, will include the christening of the first outboard Kingbird put into service by E. A. T., a luncheon on the field to visiting company officials and local city executives, and the dispatch of mail with a special first flight cachet prepared by the Chamber of Commerce.

Fares for the new line will be as follows: Atlanta to Macon, $5.39; Atlanta to Jacksonville, $19.60; Atlanta to Daytona Beach, $26.11; Atlanta to Palm Beach, $38.50; Atlanta to Miami, $43.33; Atlanta to Orlando, $29.96; Atlanta to Tampa, $35.91, and Atlanta to St. Petersburg, $37.17.

Planes will leave Candler field every morning at 10:15 o'clock (E. S. T.) and arrive at other points on the route as follows: Macon, 11:05 a. m.; Jacksonville, 1 p. m.; Daytona Beach, 2:15 p. m.; Palm Beach, 4 p. m., and Miami, 4:45 p. m. Returning, planes will take off at Miami at 11:30 (E. S. T.) each morning and reach Candler field at 5:40 o'clock (E. S. T.) that afternoon. On the shuttle line running through the interior of the state, planes will leave Daytona Beach daily at 2:30 p. m., arrive at Orlando at 3 o'clock, Tampa at 3:50 o'clock and St. Petersburg at 4:05 p. m. Returning, planes will leave St. Petersburg at 12:10 every afternoon and arrive at Daytona Beach at 1:45 p. m., in time to connect the northbound plane from Miami, scheduled to land at Daytona Beach at 1:50.

With the dawn of the New Year the eastern seaboard finds that it is served with the most complete air transport facilities available. Forty airplanes of Eastern Air Transport will be engaged in flying passengers and mail between New York and Atlanta and Miami. Connections will be available at Atlanta over the Southern Air Fast Express to the southwest and the Pacific coast, while at New York the service of Colonial and Canadian-Colonial Airways will join New England and our neighbor to the north.

A working agreement between American Airways, Inc., of which Colonial, Canadian-Colonial and Southern Air Fast Express are divisions and Eastern Air Transport, Inc., which is a division of North American Aviation, Inc., will allow a close co-ordination of schedules in serving the south, west, north and east.

After the opening of the Florida services today there will be one route in the Eastern Air Transport system yet to be opened. That one is the coastal airway reaching from Richmond to Jacksonville, giving a direct flight up the east coast between Miami and New York. Operations will be begun over the new route in February, at which time the department of commerce will have completed its survey and the lighting of the new airway.

LAST RITES FRIDAY FOR W. A. FOWLER, 81

Last rites for William A. Fowler, 81, pioneer Georgia school teacher, who died Tuesday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. M. Harkins, at 531 Sims street, East Point, will be held at 11 o'clock Friday morning at the East Point Baptist church, with the Rev. W. A. Duncan, and the Rev. J. A. Crumley officiating. Interment will be in College Park cemetery, with A. C. Hemperly & Sons in charge.

Born in Pickens county, Mr. Fowler traveled to Texas in a covered wagon with a group of pioneers about 1873. He spent about four years herding cattle on the frontier, returning to Georgia in 1877, where he entered the North Georgia Agricultural College at Dahlonega. Working his way through this institution, Mr. Fowler received a license to teach in 1880, and conducted schools in Milton, Cherokee, and neighboring counties for many years. He had lived with his daughter about 24 years, and was an active member of the East Point Baptist church.

He is survived by another daughter, Mrs. H. B. Yates; two sons, M. D. and E. E. Fowler, and three brothers, F. M., and J. S. Fowler, of Surrency, Ga., and J. M. V. Fowler, of Vinita.

Similar observances will be held in approximately 1,000 cities and towns throughout the United States.

Miller, secretary of the Florida league; M. C. Bennett and J. E. Bodenheimer, of the state securities commission, and other Georgia officials.

DAIRY EMPLOYEE KILLED BY BULL

Harold Swann, 18-year-old employee of a DeKalb county dairy said to be operated by Roy House, was killed by an enraged bull late Wednesday afternoon, it was reported.

No details of the tragedy were available at an early hour this morning. The body was removed to the establishment of Harry G. Poole, and funeral arrangments will be announced later. Swann is said to have no relatives in Atlanta.

FEDERAL PRISONER IS RELEASED ON WRIT

G. A. Sprague, who finished serving the first two years of a six-year sentence imposed in the United States court of Delaware in 1928, was released from the federal penitentiary Wednesday when Judge Samuel H. Sibley granted a habeas corpus application filed for him by Frank A. Doughman, Atlanta attorney.

Sprague was convicted on three counts of a conspiracy indictment which detailed as separate offenses three transactions in a mail solicitation sale of stock. The maximum penalty is two years and, in a written opinion, Judge Sibley revoked the judgment of the Delaware court and held that since there was only one conspiracy involved Sprague was being punished in violation of his constitutional rights.

P. M. CHRISTIAN, SR., DIES IN LITTLE ROCK

PHILIP M. CHRISTIAN, SR.

Mr. Christian was well known in Atlanta business circles, having lived here for about 45 years. He was a member of St. Philip's cathedral. Surviving are his widow, his daughter, and a son, Philip M. Christian, Jr., of Atlanta.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Nineteen hundred thirty packed up its financial woes and sneaked off into history today, making room for a 1931 which, in the opinion of conservative observers, will be a period of slow and cautious improvement.

The stock market jubilantly rallied to the task of stowing the old year away in moth balls and closed higher. Bonds needed little urging to do likewise, but the commodities, which had endured much from departing 1930, were indifferent.

Share prices, better all day, reacted under profit-taking after a 2 to 8-point advance, but a late bullish demonstration in the utilities and specialties left quotations 1 to 19 points up. The average net advance, however, was measured in the more modest figure of 2 points. The turnover was 1,935,330 shares.

Hangover Momentum.

Some of the momentum acquired from yesterday's railroad news may have been left over to give the market a further push. But the rally seemed, rather, to express relief that 15 months of depression were behind.

Advances in many of the volatile stocks were sharp. Detroit Edison set the day's record gain, 19 1-4 points, while Inland Steel, American Power & Light, American Water Works, International Business Machines, Gillette preferred, Kress, and Industrial Alcohol soared 4 to 7. United States Steel, American Telephone, Auburn Auto, Texas Corporation, Corn Products, Hudson Motors, American Smelting, Bethlehem Steel, Consolidated Gas, United Corporation, Electric Power & Light and International Telephone rose about a point net. American Can, on the other hand, lost a point and Allied Chemical dropped 6. Rails were barely steady, although Southern railway advanced 4.

Different Story.

There was little resemblance between closing stock prices today and those of January 2. The market completed the first business day of 1930 with the composite of 90 issues at 168.2; the year ended with that average at 121.8. Between those extremes on the calendar was the year's high, 205.8, set in April, and the low, 114.7, made earlier this month.

The decline in commodity prices, which foreshadowed the 1929 collapse in the security markets, has now been in progress 17 months and the bureau of labor's index at the end of November registered 80.4 contrasted with the 1929 high of 98. Virtually none of the world's basic raw materials has been spared in this drastic deflationary process, although the most acute losses have been in grains, metals and textiles. Not until recently was there any sign of stabilization and some of this improvement has been due to artificial measures.

With industrial production about four-fifths of the 1929 volume and buyers showing increasing timidity as the year dragged along, the profits of the nation's corporate enterprises dropped some 40 per cent from the boom peak. Foreign trade likewise dwindled, imports declining 30 per cent and exports 26 per cent in the first 11 months.

Reassuring Factors.

Although the worldwide extent of the slump is taken into account in all discussions of the pace of recovery, economists are pointing to several factors which they consider reassuring. Inventories at this year-end are doubtless the lowest in some time and appreciable inroads are being made into excess supplies of goods, thus decreasing the spread between consumption and production. Credit is being made available in abundance.

The time element is regarded as a most advantageous factor. Records show that the average period of the last three depressions was 23 months and it is partly for this reason that such prophets as are willing to hazard a guess are looking for the first definite signs of recovery to appear in the spring. Even the optimists, however, believe the improvement will be slow and possibly ragged.

BOSTON RESERVE BANK CUTS RATE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(AP)—The federal reserve board announced today that the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston had established a rediscount of 2 1-2 per cent on all classes of paper on all maturities effective January 2.

The action of the Boston bank gives it the second lowest rate in the federal reserve system. New York maintains a rate of 2 per cent, while Cleveland reduced its rate to 3 per cent two days ago. The other federal reserve banks maintain a rate of 3 1-2 per cent.

Stock Exchange Members Stage New Year Party

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Members of the New York Stock and Curb Exchanges all but forgot security trading late in today's market sessions to indulge in the exchanges' annual New Year's Eve celebrations.

The funeral of the year 1930—one of the most troublesome within memory—was regarded as an occasion well worthy of celebration. A 25-piece orchestra on the floor of the Stock Exchange all but drowned out the voices of traders endeavoring to do a little last-minute business. There was the annual confetti throwing, packed visitors' galleries, and general merriment. Most of the commodity exchanges had also arranged to observe the passing of the year with fitting ceremony.

Share prices on the Stock Exchange moved higher most of the day, although trading became extremely dull after the first hour. There were numerous gains of $2 to $4 a share by early afternoon, but pre-holiday liquidation cut many of these advances in half in the last hour.

ANNUAL BROKERS' LOANS REVIEWED

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Reflecting the deflation in security prices that took place during the year, loans on stocks and bonds to brokers and dealers by reporting New York city member banks of the federal reserve in 1930 dropped to the lowest levels reached since publication of the figures by the federal reserve board in Washington was started in 1926.

Rising to a high of $4,274,000,000 in the week ended April 30, brokers' loans fell off irregularly until September 24 and then started a series of about a dozen successive declines that brought the total near the end of the year to the figure of $2,099,000,000.

This compared with the record high for brokers' loans of $6,804,000,000, established at the peak of the 1929 bull market in stocks in the week ended October 2 last year.

ATLANTA SPOT COTTON.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—(AP)—An opening advance in cotton on buying promoted by relatively steady Liverpool cables was followed by reactions today under pre-holiday realizing or liquidation. March contracts sold off from 10.07 to 9.92, but recovered a few points in the last few minutes on covering and closed at 9.96. The market closed barely steady at a net advance of 3 points on January, but generally 3 to 5 points lower.

The opening was steady 7 to 9 points higher, with new January selling up to 9.87 and May to 10.35 on covering and some local buying which appeared to be inspired by relatively steady Liverpool cables. New January sold off to 9.71 and May to 10.20, making net declines of about 5 to 7 points, but the close was a few points up from the lowest on covering with the near months relatively firm.

Reports of labor disputes in England with the possibility of difficulties in some of the Lancashire mills over the 8-loom per weaver plan may have helped to check the early advance here notwithstanding the relatively steady showing of the Liverpool market. Additional January notices against the new contract representing about 4,800 bales were said to have been issued here and led to some further switching from January to later months during the early trading.

Liverpool cables reported continental buying, covering and trade calling in that market but said business in cotton cloths and yarns was restricted and that the dispute over more looms per weaver was causing anxiety. Exports today 31,132, making 3,966,012 so far this season. Port receipts 26,299. United States port stocks 4,190,884.

PRE-HOLIDAY QUIET RULES AT NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Pre-holiday quiet was the dominating feature in the cotton market here today and brokers used much of the time by indulging in the usual year-end frolicking. First prices showed gains of 6 to 7 points but soon turned easier on realizing and liquidation and by the middle of the afternoon prices showed declines from the opening highs of 9 to 10 points. After easing further in late trading to levels 13 to 15 points below the highs, the market rallied 6 to 7 points at the end and closed steady, net unchanged to 6 points down. The year closed with prices about 50 points or $2.50 above the lowest of the season.

Liverpool at the time the market here opened was 6 to 9 points better than due and private cables stated that shorts covered and the trade called. First trades here showed gains of 6 to 7 points, which was not a full response to the advance abroad. The opening prices were the highs of the day with March at 10.06 and May at 10.33.

The market soon started to ease off slowly owing to the usual liquidation and realizing before the impending holiday and by the middle of the afternoon March had dropped to 9.97 and May to 10.23, 9 to 10 points down from the highs and 2 to 4 points under the previous close. The market continued to ease off in the late trading until March dropped to 9.93 and May to 10.18, down 13 to 15 points from the highs and 6 to 9 points under the previous close. There was a rally of 6 to 7 points at the end on covering, March closing at 9.99, or net unchanged, and May at 10.25, down 2 points.

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN.

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Canadian government plans for grain trade relief were a fizzle so far as sustained price upturns here were concerned today. A moderate early rise was witnessed, largely as a result of Winnipeg advices that a bullish construction was placed on Prime Minister Bennett's announcement of the plans as outlined last night at Regina, Saskatchewan. However, the gains later were wiped out by late messages from Winnipeg expressing disappointment with the plans as being indefinite and of a purely political character.

Wheat closed unsettled at yesterday's finish to 1-2 cent lower. Corn closed at 1-4 cent decline to 5-8 cent advance, oats 1-8 - 3-8 cents off, and provisions unchanged to 12 cents down.

Chicago wheat closed at only a moderate margin over the bottommost level reached for 1930. Reports of generally indifferent domestic and export trade in wheat, together with word of weakness at Winnipeg and Liverpool, were current during the late dealings, and export business in Canadian wheat were estimated at only 200,000 bushels.

Corn and oats swayed in accord with fluctuations of wheat. On the late general downward swing, oats equaled the season's low-price record.

Provisions were governed by continued heavy deliveries of December lard.

BANK HEAD VIEWS OUTLOOK FOR 1931

Confidence in Country's Economic Condition Will Bring Improvement.

Statistical records and the history of business cycles show the present depression should by now have run its course and there should soon appear definite indications of economic recovery, in the opinion of R. S. Hecht, president of the Hibernia Bank & Trust Company. "However, business the world over continues at low ebb, and thus far there are few signs of immediate improvement," Mr. Hecht points out. "The purchasing power of our people generally has been adversely affected by severe losses in security values among the well-to-do and by widespread unemployment among the salaried people and wage earners. But the depression has been aggravated and prolonged by an excess of pessimism which has pervaded our financial and business circles, and which, it seems to us, has gone much further than the fundamental conditions warrant.

"There may not be much justification for expecting any substantial business recovery in the immediate future, but on the other hand we cannot see any good reason for the pessimistic predictions made by gloomy prophets of disaster.

"In our own city and state, wholesale and retail trade has been relatively well maintained and there is sound reason to expect a continuance of fairly active business in our immediate territory, as both our state and city governments have initiated a program of liberal expenditures for public works which should soon reduce unemployment and stimulate trade.

"Speaking nationally, the probable course of events is more difficult to gauge. The grave problems that have come in the wake of the present depression have been met with courage and intelligence by our business leaders who, while refusing to spread meaningless propaganda of optimism and good cheer, have at least retained a sane outlook on the future of American business.

"Under present conditions we would not hazard an opinion as to how soon a marked business recovery may set in. We do not hesitate, however, to express the view that there is every reason for confidence in the country's fundamental economic and financial situation. We also believe that the experience of the past, the vast resources of our country, and the initiative of our people will ere long bring about a more hopeful psychology in business circles and a consequent turning point toward more normal conditions. Even then the upward road is likely to be slow and arduous, but its path will ultimately lead us back to a new prosperity made more sound and stable by the unpleasant experience of the past two years.

"In the meantime confidence, courage and co-operation will be needed in the business world to make the road easier."

GILBERT TO JOIN FIRM OF MORGAN, IS RUMOR

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—(AP)—A fresh rumor that S. Parker Gilbert will become associated with the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. after the first of the year brought no comment from the Morgan banking house today.

There have been various rumors regarding Mr. Gilbert's probable connections since he completed his work as agent general for reparations several months ago and returned to this country from Germany. Mr. Gilbert has declined to comment on his plans, but the report of a connection with the Morgan firm has been one of the most persistent.

FULTON NATIONAL CLOSES BEST YEAR

Financial Institution Reports Substantial Growth in All Departments.

The Fulton National bank is closing the most remarkable 12 months of progress in its long history, with substantial growth in all departments, it is reported by Ryburn G. Clay, president of the institution.

Mr. Clay expresses belief that 1930 has been a year in which the element of personal service has come definitely to the fore as one of the prerequisites of modern banking and particularly with regard to trust department service.

"To pleasantly serve the banking requirements and to provide a diversified, modern banking service to meet every personal, trust, and commercial banking need must carry with it the utmost friendship and confidence of the people," says Mr. Clay.

"This calls for a degree of contact between banking officials and the public," Mr. Clay continued, "that must be cordial, confident, intimate and sound. The unceasing practice of such a policy has its reward in public good will and this, together with a sound constructive management policy, forms the great asset factors upon which banking service and growth is predicated.

"Moderate expansion has taken place with the Fulton National bank during the past year in the establishment of convenient neighborhood branches. The wisdom of this expansion is evidenced in the fact that these branches at Buckhead and in West End have enjoyed with our main office a constant and growing support.

"The year just passing finds us enjoying the fruits of a conservative policy and a highly prized reputation for friendly contact between our officers and all depositors, which is our healthy heritage for the New Year.

"It will be our policy during 1931 to continue the same conservative banking practices to which our position as one of the state's sound, substantial national banks can be attributed and to be prepared to expand normally in this community as the need for continued expansion of our service is deemed advisable."

BY DONALD C. BOLLES.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—(AP)—The bond market bade farewell today to 1930 with a strong advance that was the best in a fortnight.

The market was devoid of the depressing influence of tax selling that has manifested itself up until today, and domestic bonds responded to a good demand that received some impetus from purchases in anticipation of large payments in interest and dividends within the next week or two.

The rally brought an advance of 8-10ths of a point in the averages and left the price level nearer the bottom than the top of the year's movement, due principally to the unprecedented decline of a few weeks ago. At the close tonight the averages stood at 95.5 compared with a year's high of 101.9 and a minimum of 92.6, which was the lowest for a five-year period.

While bond traders joined in the impromptu New Year's celebration on the stock exchange floor during the afternoon, they transacted a volume of business unusually large for a session on the eve of a holiday. Railroad obligations resumed their broad advance.

Convertibles moved upward from 1 to 3 points. Utility issues were not far behind. American Telephone issues and many other prime bonds in the group were marked up sharply. Industrials displayed the best tone in some time. American Smelting & Refining 5s registered a new high.

Treasury obligations, the strong performance of which stood out during the year, advanced today, but failed to duplicate the peak prices reached earlier this fall. Liberties, however, were within a small fraction of the year's high at the close, gaining about 3-32nds on an average. Short-term treasury issues were steady.

The last day of the year brought transactions in many infrequently traded foreign bonds. The group closed firm.

See Trade Expansion.

A gradually expanding volume of business can be anticipated during the early months of 1931, in contrast with the last quarter of 1930, Standard Statistics Co. says in a survey of sales and credit prospects. "However," the survey says, "strenuous efforts will be required to overcome continued strong consumer resistance, and price will be the paramount factor in most transactions. As compared with the opening months of 1930, aggregate business volume in the initial quarter of 1931 probably will experience a decline of at least 5 per cent."

STEEL HEADS STUDY DECISION ON MERGER

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—(AP)—The Bethlehem Steel Corporation announced a conference of officials of Bethlehem Steel and Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company was held today to have counsel explain the scope and effect of the Ohio court decision granting an injunction preventing the proposed merger of the two companies. "No other subject was discussed," the statement said. "No decision was reached or sought to be reached."

The meeting, held in the offices of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, was attended by James A. Campbell, chairman of the board of Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company, and his associates, and Eugene G. Grace, president of Bethlehem, and his associates, and by the lawyers representing both companies.

The statement said that the present legal status of the case was thoroughly discussed.

No further comment beyond the very brief official statement was available as to the largely-attended meeting that lasted several hours. No light was shed on the question of paramount interest, whether Bethlehem, having lost the first skirmish to Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland financier, will appeal the decision to a higher court, or abandon its merger plans.

SHARES ON CURB FLIP SHARPLY UP

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Curb shares finished the year with a violent upturn today, although trading slackened abruptly, the day's turnover of 579,300 shares amounting to little more than half of yesterday's.

The lifting of tax selling pressure, and the marking up of shares for inventory purposes, appeared to be the basis of the advance. Utilities, and a few of the chain store issues, made the most pronounced recovery.

Only sales for cash today would record losses in 1930 incomes for tax purposes. Investment companies making annual reports as of December 31, furthermore, were naturally not averse to seeing a little last-minute enhancement of the quoted value of their holdings. American Gas and Electric was a high flyer, closing 17 points up. Consolidated Gas of Baltimore gained 12. Associated Gas "A" advanced 3 points, and St. Regis as much. Such active issues as Electric Bond and Share, American Superpower, and United Light "A" gained about a point each.

In the chain stores, Mercantile Stores, a comparatively inactive issue, finished at 54, a gain of nearly 32 points. Daniel Reeves, in which the market is also thin, shot up nearly 12 points to 30. Edison Brothers rose nearly 3 to 9 1-2. Walgreen rose 2 to 19.

Oils were also strong. Gulf, Indiana and Vacuum each gained 2 or more. Cities Service, Humble and Kentucky were up slightly, and Nebraska advanced more than a point. In the metal shares, New Jersey Zinc gained 5, and Newmont 2.

Investment company issues were also bid up substantially.

Industrials were extremely dull.

THE FRIENDLY NATIONAL BANK

And Now--- Looking Toward 1931

SUBSTANTIAL progress marked 1930 at the "Friendly" Fulton National Bank . . . the greatest in our history! . . . All the more highly appreciated since it came alike from modest savings accounts of thrifty school children; new, substantial accounts of business firms and the increased use of the services of our Trust Department.

That the sound, conservative, modern banking policies have met with your growing approval . . . that increased facilities have permitted more convenient personal service to a greater number of Atlantians . . . that the "Friendly" Fulton ranks as one of the great, strong National banks of this State and section are indeed happy accomplishments.

And now, appreciative of this heritage of good will and growth, we look toward 1931 as a New Year in which these same friendly, conservative policies will bring to all departments of all branches the opportunity of rendering even greater service to our community.

Miss Cooper Weds Eitel Bauer, of S. C.

The wedding of Miss Luceil Cooper and Eitel Bauer, of Columbia, S. C., and LaGrange, was solemnized Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at St. Mark's Episcopal church. Rev. J. D. C. Wilson, rector of the St. Mark's church, read the service in the presence of a group of close friends of the bride and groom.

Joseph Wilson, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. D. C. Wilson, lighted the tapers preceding the ceremony; Albert Penn at the organ, played Schubert's Serenade. Mrs. Nellie Nix Edwards, of Atlanta, sang "O, Perfect Love." During the ceremony Mr. Penn played "Just a Song At Twilight." The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was used as the processional, and the ushers were G. S. Hopkins and Charles Elliott, of Covington.

Miss Henrietta Ravenel, of Clemson, S. C., was maid of honor and the bride's only attendant, and was gowned in a black afternoon model of crepe Romaine fashioned along modish straight lines. A cowl collar of white crepe with bow and streamers in the back trimmed the gown. A black felt hat with gardenias completed her costume, and she carried an arm bouquet of talisman roses tied with sunburst ribbon.

The groom had as his best man William Young, of Rome. The bride was given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Ruby Cooper, of Atlanta, who wore a gown of black crepe Elizabeth trimmed with sun tan lace. Completing her costume was a close fitting black hat of silk and she wore a shoulder corsage of talisman roses.

The bride was a picture of loveliness in her gown of Lavin green flat crepe which was made with a tight fitting bodice and circular skirt and trimmed with egg shell crepe. She wore a green suede velour hat and green suede shoes, and a necklace of pearls and crystals was her only ornament. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies lavishly tied with bride's ribbon. For the wedding journey she wore a camel's hair coat.

Mr. and Mrs. Bauer left after the ceremony for Petersham, Mass., where the groom has a scholarship at the Harvard School of Forestry. Upon the completion of the school year they will make their home in LaGrange where Mr. Bauer is employed as forester for the Callaway mills, having obtained a year's leave of absence to study at Harvard. Mrs. Bauer made a host of friends in LaGrange during her residence here while teaching dancing and expression at the Penn Studios. She is the only daughter of Mrs. Ruby Cooper, of Atlanta, and is a vivacious brunette.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Esther Bauer, Mr. and Mrs. J. Foster Moore, of Columbia, S. C.; Mrs. Nellie Nix Edwards, of Atlanta; Mrs. George Kirby and Walter Page, of Opelika, Ala.

Army Set Welcomes New Year At Brilliant Costume Ball

FORT McPHERSON, Ga., Dec. 31. The costume ball at Fort McPherson was a brilliant event of New Year's Eve, given by the Officers' Club at their clubhouse. Garlands of evergreens and miniature fir trees strung with colored lights were effectively arranged. Above the broad mantel a holly wreath was suspended, while the mantel was banked with holly and starred with red poinsettias. The archway was outlined with trailing vines caught with a cascade of red Christmas bells, and the windows were bedecked with green. The stairway and balcony were twined with southern smilax and poinsettias, while the coffee table was centered with a Christmas tree gaily decorated with colored lights, ornaments and silver tinsel. There was no official receiving line but the hosts for the club were Colonel Charles Lovelace Foster and Mrs. Foster, Major Gustav H. Franke and Mrs. Franke and Captain Richard T. Edwards and Mrs. Edwards, and this trio of charming matrons greeted the guests.

Beautiful Costumes.

The costumes selected by a bevy of the girls of the younger contingent were especially beautiful. Tall, graceful Miss Patrice Donahue represented a Turkish maiden in green satin trousers, purple bolero and broad crimson sash. Her face was covered with a black lace veil and she wore many strands of beads around her neck and twisted around her arms. Miss Aline Williams as a gypsy girl was lovely in her orange skirt, blouse and sash of brown and orange. Her brunette tresses hung about her shoulders and she wore a kerchief of browns and orange. Miss Majorie Ripley made a charming Turkish dancing girl in her costume of scarlet with floral designs. Her hair was confined by a band of gold finished in the back with ornaments of gold, and she wore a red chiffon veil caught to her hair Turkish fashion and allowing her eyes to peep above the chiffon. Miss Jackie Ensrud was a slim jockey in boots, riding breeches and red and white shirt topped by a jockey cap of red with a long visor.

Miss Helen Bach made a lovely old-fashioned maiden in blue muslin with full skirt, short bodice and net fischu, while an amusing small bat of flowers and lace was tied with narrow ribbons. Miss Mary Bach wore a dancer's costume of black and white satin with a black ruff around her graceful neck. Miss Helen Franke wore overalls and blue shirt as a dainty farmette, and Miss Berenice Fiske wore a black Pierot costume with pompons of orchid ornamenting the front and the tall hat. Miss Doris Macklin wore an Apache costume with brief skirt of red and white plaid with a striped sweater of red and white and atop her head was a beret of black with a white feather. Miss Josephine Blanchard was a jester in red and yellow suit with tiny jingling bells and a tall cap of red and yellow.

Mrs. Joseph Aman was a graceful figure representing the poinsettia blossom, with green shoes, stockings and the lower part of the skirt in green and the crimson petals of the flower fashioning the bodice and the upper portion of the skirt. A huge flower was caught to her shoulder and she wore a poinsettia in her hair. Mrs. Richard T. Edwards made a lovely Pierot in a blue satin suit with tall blue cap, and Mrs. Gustav H. Franke wore a dancing costume of black with velvet bodice fashioned long, short pants of black satin and a long divided skirt of maline. A spray of crimson gardenias was caught to the left shoulder. Mrs. George Abrams was charming in a Chinese costume of red with gold embroidery, while Captain Abrams wore a pirate suit with huge earrings and black trousers, white shirt and red scarf. Major Gustav H. Franke was a gambler of 1849 with dark suit, the trousers tucked into black boots, flowered vest, diamond stud, and long gold watch chain. Miss Barbara Sommerville, of Nashville, Tenn., who is the guest of Colonel Laurance O. Mathews and Mrs. Mathews, appeared as a Christmas package, with her slender neck emerging from the red wrappings of the package tied with silver ribbons. The package was addressed to the Fort McPherson officers' hop and the sender resided at 1097 Arlington avenue. Mrs. W. C. Bryson, the daughter of Colonel Mathews and Mrs. Mathews, was a study in black and white, a checkerboard effect featuring this novel costume. Colonel Mathews represented the famous Julius Caesar in short, white tunic, sandals laced to the knee with black lacings, and a wreath made of laurel leaves. Miss Rosalyn Pate was a Japanese maid in yellow kimono with blue sash and red flowers in her hair.

Included in the surrender value would be 4 per cent interest from the date of issue, while in making adjustments for interest due on loans 4 instead of the 6 per cent now charged would be the basis.

FRANCIS E. WILLIAMS SUCCUMBS IN MACON

Prominent Bank Official Passes After Illness of Several Weeks.

MACON, Ga., Dec. 31.—(AP)—Francis E. Williams, vice president of the Luther Williams Bank & Trust Company, and one of Macon's most widely known citizens, died at the family residence here Wednesday afternoon.

He had been ill for several weeks and pneumonia developed Monday.

He was 44 years of age at the time of his death. Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Mr. Williams, in addition to being vice president of the banking institution founded by his father, Luther Williams, was treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce, and had been since its organization; was a member of the choir and vestry at Christ Episcopal church; twice headed the annual campaign of the Community Chest; was treasurer of the Kiwanis Club and a past vice president of the organization.

Mr. Williams became ill some time ago, and physicians recently announced he was suffering from acute encephalitis lethargic. He seemed to be recovering from the disease, but pneumonia developed Monday. Reports of physicians were encouraging up to noon Wednesday. Shortly after that hour he began to sink rapidly, and the end came as a shock to family and friends.

News of his death was conveyed to the Kiwanis Club in regular session at the Hotel Dempsey, and the members stood in tribute.

Surviving are his widow and a son, Francis, Jr.; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Williams; five brothers, Rev. Luther Williams, of Texas; Arthur, of Valdosta; Frederick, Howard and Robert H., of Macon; two sisters, Mrs. John Tyler and Mrs. George Martin, of Florida.

CATOOSA COUNTY CLERK MISSING SINCE DEC. 11

RINGGOLD, Ga., Dec. 31.—(AP)—H. Lee Neal, Catoosa county clerk, who was found short in his accounts approximately $5,500, has been missing from his home here since December 11. Mr. Neal's wife and four children are said to have no idea as to his whereabouts.

The shortage in the court clerk's books was first reported in August. The first of December an audit was made of the county court clerk's books and it was reported that Neal was short $3,000 in court accounts and $2,500 in guardians' bonds. On December 8 the bonding company agreed to pay off the shortage and allow Neal to continue as clerk. He disappeared three days later and an election has been called for January 18 to fill his office. Neal had served since 1924. He had no opposition in the last election.

Prosperity Causes Wrens Bank To Close

WRENS, Ga., Dec. 31.—(AP)—This is a prosperity story about the closing of a bank.

The Weeks Banking Company, a private institution, went out of business today because the wholesale grocery business grew too good.

W. E. Weeks, president, sent out notices to the depositors several weeks ago, notifying them that he was quitting, and asking them to come and get their money.

Most of them had come after it today, he said, but some had not yet gotten around to it. He said the money was here for them when they decided they wanted it.

Deposits, Weeks said, were "somewhere around $75,000 or $100,000."

The bank president is also head of a wholesale house which he said did not leave him time enough to be a banker.

Court Economizes by Early Trials Of Prisoners Unable to Make Bond

McDONOUGH, Ga., Dec. 31.—The county court in Henry county in 1930 has saved the county hundreds of dollars expenses and has paid into the treasury $1,187.50, in seven months, according to Sheriff L. D. Hightower.

The court holds both a monthly and a quarterly session. During the year 184 criminal cases were disposed of in the regular sessions. The civil cases are usually considered quarterly.

Under the direction of Judge Charles H. Griffin, an arrangement has been made by which a case, in which the defendant is unable to make bond, may be tried immediately, in a special session. In this way, the county is saved hundreds of dollars annually in the support of prisoners, and the number of cases which are held over for the superior court is lessened. This provision shortens the length of the term of the higher court, which convens twice annually.

During 1930, $4,623 in fines were paid. All costs except the judge's salary, have been paid out of this sum and $1,187.50 has been placed in the county treasury.

BUS LINE LEGISLATION BELIEVED ASSURED

MACON, Ga., Dec. 31.—(AP)—It is generally believed in Atlanta that special legislation will be passed in the coming session of the general assembly giving the Georgia public service commission specific authority to require passenger facilities for bus lines located at a given place, according to a letter received by Mayor Toole today from James A. Perry, chairman of the commission.

If such authority is granted the commission will be in a position "to give consideration to the question of such a facility in Macon and other points," Mr. Perry wrote in reply to a letter from Mayor Toole regarding the situation in Macon. Bus lines here have announced the proposed construction of a $25,000 terminal, it was recalled, but the mayor said he had no official notice of it.

The public service commission, unless called in special session, will not meet until January 14. The general assembly will convene on January 6 and Mr. Perry said it will be possible to ascertain during the early days of the session whether the commission will be given authority to require the passenger facilities.

"If this special legislation is not forthcoming," Mr. Perry wrote, "it will be our purpose to expedite this matter with a final order immediately thereafter."

SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 31.—(AP)—Recorder John E. Schwartz in police court ruled Wednesday that the state motor carriers act of 1929 and fees paid to the state did not exempt proprietors of trucking and transfer companies from specific tax by the city.

WIDOW OF T.W. HAWKES SUES FOR INSURANCE

Payment of $32,000 to State Is Restrained by Court Order.

MACON, Ga., Dec. 31.—(AP)—The collection of $32,000 insurance on the life of T. W. Hawkes, the late president of the defunct Merchants and Mechanics Bank of Macon, temporarily restrained by order of Judge H. A. Mathews, Mrs. Rubie L. Hawkes, the banker's widow, and A. B. Mobley, superintendent of banks, Wednesday began a legal controversy over their respective claims.

Mr. Mobley claims the amount for the defunct bank, now in the process of liquidation, by virtue of an assignment of the policies by Hawkes on August 29, shortly after a shortage of more than $91,000 was admitted by him.

Mrs. Hawkes claims the money because, she alleges, the assignments are illegal and made under duress and fear.

The woman instituted suit in the Bibb superior court today through her attorney, R. Douglas Feagin, and obtained an order restraining the payment of the money to the bank by fire insurance companies.

The hearing for interlocutory injunction has been assigned by Judge Mathews for January 23. Mr. Mobley and the defunct bank will be represented by the law firm of Park & Strozier.

Should the interlocutory injunction be granted, the insurance companies will be asked by the court to file interventions and pay the sums due into the court pending the final outcome of the controversy, it was said. A jury will decide the main issue.

The following insurance companies are involved. The Illinois Life Insurance Company, $5,000; the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, $10,000; Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company, three policies, $1,000, $1,340, $6,700; the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States $5,000, and the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, two policies, $2,000 and $1,000.

The petition of Mrs. Hawkes alleges the assignments made by Hawkes on the night of his apprehension are illegal because "said policies require the change of beneficiary to be indorsed on the policy itself by the insurance company before the change is effected, and this has not been done."

She also claims that she was not consulted as beneficiary, though the policies require it.

Hawkes died last Saturday of pneumonia contracted after the first day of his service of a 10 years' sentence at the state farm.

DEADLOCK CONTINUES IN DANVILLE STRIKE

DANVILLE, Va., Dec. 31.—(AP)—Deadlock between the mill management and striking employes of the Riverside and Dan River cotton mills continued apparently unbroken here tonight.

The regular routine of activities was resumed and Francis J. Gorman, vice president of the United Textile Workers of America, said that the strike will be carried on if the proposal made here last night by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, is refused or ignored. Mr. Gorman and others directing the efforts of the employes had no further statement to make.

H. R. Fitzgeral, president of the mills, announced through his secretary that he had nothing whatever to say. There was no indication of any altering of the policy of the mill management which heretofore has refused to negotiate with union representatives.

NAVAL BUILDING HOLIDAY CLOSES

ROME, Dec. 31.—(AP)—The Italo-French naval construction holiday, arranged last summer, ends officially today but resumption of building in the near future is regarded here as unlikely.

It was guardedly admitted today that the recent visit of Robert L. Craigie, naval expert of the British foreign office to Rome and Paris, resulted in a sort of "gentleman's agreement" for a continuation of the holiday at least until after the meeting of the council of the League of Nations January 19. At that time direct negotiations between French and Italian experts will be resumed.

ORLEANS THEATER WRECKED BY BOMB

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Three violent explosions early today destroyed the Valentino theater, small neighborhood motion picture theater on Frenchman street, and damaged five other buildings.

The force of the explosion knocked people from their beds for blocks around and created pandemonium in the neighborhood. Damage was estimated at $40,000.

Police were working on the theory that the theater was dynamited by some enemy of the owner. It was empty at the time and no reports of human injuries have been received by the police.

GUATEMALA CHOOSES ANDRADE PRESIDENT

SAN SALVADOR, Republic of Salvador, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Dispatches from Guatemala today said Dr. Reina Andrade had been chosen provisional president of that republic after President Lazaro Chacon and General Manuel Orellana, who assumed power by a coup d'etat December 16, had resigned.

General Orellana was notified this week his regime would not be recognized by the United States.

Washington's action followed a policy guided by the Central American treaty of 1923, which bound the five republics of Central America not to recognize neighboring governments which gained power by revolution or coup d'etat. The United States was not a signatory of the treaty, but always has been guided by its precepts.

1931 USHERED IN WITH BALLS, DANCES, OTHER FETES

Costume Ball Held By Nine O'Clocks At Piedmont Club

Brilliant with colorful fancy dress costumes, reflecting the fashion of every nationality under the sun, the Nine O'Clocks' ball was one of the most auspicious functions of the season, taking place last evening at the Piedmont Driving Club. This annual costume ball is always one of the most unique, enjoyable and long-anticipated social events, assembling as it does every New Year's Eve the married and unmarried members of fashionable society, to speed the departing old year and herald the incoming new year. James D. Robinson, Jr., is president of this social organization founded in 1883, and Baxter Maddox is secretary and treasurer, while Frank W. Harrold, Lawson Kiser and Cobb C. Torrence form the board of directors.

The effective decorations featured an elaborate arrangement of smilax which garlanded the white columns and outlined the doors and windows, the electric lights being veiled in pale yellow shades. Silver stars twinkled in the ceiling, and as the midnight hour was announced with the blowing of horns and whistles, the figures 1931 were flashed from the enormous electric sign placed at the far end of the ballroom. Noise-makers, balloons and paper hats were presented as favors, and the tables were adorned with varicolored miniature balloons. Norwegians, Russians, Spaniards, Chinese and Hollanders danced to the rhythmic measure of the fox trot and waltz, vying with American sailors, belles of the sixties, pajama-clad maids and matrons and their escorts. A cabaret number featuring professional dancers entertained the guests during dinner.

Winning Costumes.

The accompanying pictures feature a group of charming matrons and maids who donned fancy dress costumes to attend the annual ball given last evening at the Piedmont Driving Club. In the top group, reading from left to right, are Miss Eugenia Bridges, masquerading as a Spanish senorita, wearing a cream lace mantilia, and a white silk shawl embroidered with red roses and red shoes with glittering rhinestone heels; Miss Claire Hanner, wearing an old-fashioned costume of gray taffeta, with wide flowing skirt; Mrs. Samuel Giudici, of Forrest Hills, L. I., formerly of Atlanta, wearing a colorful Rumanian peasant costume, with crisp white cap, ornamented with black pom pons at either side, and Miss Frances Barnwell, who represented a Spanish maiden in her gown of black lace and net, with white shawl embroidered in brilliant hues. Her tresses were covered with a black mantilla and a cluster of crimson roses completed the effect. Mrs. Tommy Atkins, shown in the lower picture, wore the costume of a tap-dancer, with velvet trousers and a satin bodice in tones of orchid, and a huge ruff was around her graceful neck. Purple shoes laced with silver, completed her costume. Photographs by Kenneth Rogers, staff photographer.

figures decorating a yellow background, and a wide-brimmed straw hat completed the seashore effect.

Mrs. Sam Giudici, of Forrest Hills, L. I., formerly Miss Ann Couper, of Atlanta, wore a colorful Rumanian peasant costume, with crisp white cap, ornamented with black pompons on either side.

Mrs. Robin Adair wore a red satin page costume, made with tight fitting trousers and flowing satin crepe.

Miss Virginia Campbell represented Empress Josephine, wearing a high-waisted model of black velvet, with front panel of gold metal cloth and gold sash. Around her head she wore a band of gold olive leaves.

Mrs. William Wardlaw III wore a coolie costume of blue satin, with black trousers. Mr. Wardlaw represented a Turk, wearing a robe of black and gray, completed by a flame red turban. Miss Helen Gardner, of Baltimore, Md., the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wardlaw, was dressed as an apache, wearing a black satin dress, trimmed in bright red, with red socks and black slippers. ## Colorful New Year's Dance Assembles Society at Biltmore

The new year of 1931 was ostentatiously ushered in last evening at the seventh annual New Year's supper-dance at the Atlanta Biltmore, the occasion assembling several hundred members of Atlanta society. The supper was served at 10 o'clock and dancing continued until 2 o'clock. At exactly midnight the main lights were turned off, the lighting effect being furnished only by the red candles on the tables and the soft glow of the table lamps. The orchestra joined in the throng of noise-making with bells, horns, drums and whistles, with the gong of 12 striking.

The guests were entertained in the Georgia ballroom and the main dining room of the hotel, and both spacious rooms were effectively decorated with the holidays colors of red and green. Red and green holly wreaths were placed in the windows of both rooms, and effective green decorations were carried out on the individual tables. Vases of flowers were placed on each table, and at the places were innumerable carnival hats and favors, including 25 varieties of noise-making consisting of rattlers, whistles, horns, frying-pan rattlers and hundreds of bright colored balloons with "Happy New Year" inscribed on them.

Last year approximately 5,000 persons shook hands with the president during the afternoon. It was a clear but cold day. Weather forecasts tonight indicated that tomorrow would be the same.

INSTALLMENT XXXIV.

Peter waited, jerking with impatience, while she gently pried herself loose from Mrs. Jenkins.

"Come this way," he urged, as he led her out by the side door. "We've got to get away from that bunch of buzzards. They think the story's over, but it's just got off to a good start."

Aline turned obediently, but something in the fatigue of her drooping shoulders touched him.

"I'm sorry," he said gruffly, "but it can't be helped."

"I know," Aline murmured. "I can't give in now. There's a reason why I've simply got to find out who really did kill Don. If you can help me, I'll be more than grateful."

"You bet I'll help you," Peter assured her. "Finding out who killed Mortison is 'the fondest thing I'm of,' as an old prospector said to me the other day. His voice was raised to carry above the rohr of Bossy's racing engine. "I'm glad you want to carry it through," he added.

"I've got to carry it through," Aline spoke with desperate intensity. "I'm afraid—afraid—" her voice broke.

"There are not many things that can make you afraid," Peter suggested.

"This is more important than the trial. It's been worrying me terribly. I'm afraid that whoever killed Don took my letters with him. Don't you see how awful that would be? It would mean—that it was all for nothing!"

Peter considered a moment.

"I can tell you one thing," he said at last. "There weren't any letters in the lodge. I went over it with a fine tooth comb." If she were worried about the loss of the letters, she would do her utmost to give him every help in her power—and the other papers weren't even touching it. They were letting it slip, because their interest in the trial had centered in the defendant, not the victim. With the verdict, they considered the story "dead."

He had the advantage in his hands—the tremendous advantage of her fear. The story came first. Of course it came first! Why, a month ago he hadn't even heard of these people. What did they matter, compared with the Herald? Without the impetus of her fear to make her help him, he might lose out entirely. And then, just as if he had not settled the argument in his own mind, he spoke the words that would relinquish that advantage.

"I think you're making a mistake," he said, as Bossy swung out into the main road. "If you take my advice, you'll tell your husband how things were between you and Mortison. You haven't anything to be afraid of, really. I couldn't say it of many men, but Max is something out of the ordinary. I think he'd understand."

"You mean—tell him—?"

"I—I couldn't!"

"You mean you're afraid to do it?"

"No," Aline said slowly. "I don't mean that. I mean I haven't the right. He'd try to understand, but he couldn't. He's too different. He'd only forgive. And I can't place on him the burden of that forgiveness, just to give myself the relief of telling him. I owe it to him to make him believe that I was worthy of his trust. That's the only thing I can do—and I've got to do it, for his sake!"

"And the letters—you think they may have been taken by the murderer?"

"I don't know. I only know that I've been terrified about them—terrified with the thought that they would be found, and then that they wouldn't. I tell you, I'd gladly have had that jury tonight bring in a verdict of guilty and send me to prison—to the gallows—if in return I could have those letters in my hands and know that Max need never see them!"

Peter, humped over the wheel to peer around the next curve, shrugged his shoulders.

"Well, if you feel that way about it, we'd better get busy," he said. "It's just one more little problem. If we could just get hold of the right end, it would probably all unravel like a chain stitch. But getting hold of the end—there's the rub." His foot pressed the accelerator, taking advantage of a short stretch of straight road ahead.

"By the way, wou haven't told me yet what was in the Chinese box," he observed after a thoughtful silence.

"I don't know what that had to do with it either, but I'm sure it's important somehow! It was—"

"I don't want to know yet. I want you to fit it into its proper place. Something tells me we've an awful lot left to learn about Mortison. Suppose you begin by telling me all you know."

"I don't know much, really, Aline said slowly. "That seems queer, doesn't it? It sounds silly to talk about a man's charm, but I don't know how else to express it. It made you forget all about commonplace tangible facts. He lived so avidly in the present, as if he were snatching at it. And then some shadow would seem to come over him and he'd rush off, as if he were running away from something he was trying to forget, and had been forced to remember."

"This is bound to be pretty painful for you—like a dentist's drill." Peter said whimsically, to cover his genuine pity. "But you'll have to recall everything you can. I don't suppose he sat down and told you the history of his life, but there must have been plenty of little things to indicate who he was and where he came from. By the way, it's funny that with all this publicity, none of his relatives turned up."

"He never spoke of having any. And no, it isn't painful to look back. It's like something that happened a long time ago. When—when Marjorie told me what she did, it was like being caught in an explosion. There are things you just can't endure—the humiliation and the shock of it. But I don't feel that way any more. I don't even hate him.

"As for what went before, it's simply—vanished, like a light that's gone out. I've found out that you can do terrible things because you can't help it. If all that Marjorie said was true, then I suppose he couldn't help it, any more than I could when I ran down the path with Max's pistol. And being humiliated just doesn't seem frightfully important any more. Perhaps it's lucky that I haven't any feeling left. It ought to help me to think clearly—to see him as he was. Only there's so little that seems to explain anything."

"You never can tell," Peter said encouragingly. "To begin with he was an unusual type to be a ranch manager. Where did he come from?"

"He showed Max references from Australia, where he'd spent some years on a sheep station. He really knew a great deal about sheep—he had plans for weeding out the culls and breeding the sheep here for quality the way they've done there. And yet this really expert knowledge of sheep seemed just one of the things he'd picked up along the way. He didn't care about it, the way Max cares about engineering, for example."

"And he never mentioned his people—his home?"

"He mentioned lots of places, casually; but I don't think there was a place in all the world that he recognized as home. He used all sorts of odd slang—Cockney, and pigeon English, and South African Dutch, and Malay. But it always gave the impression of being in quotation marks, as if he'd picked it up for fun. He'd read everything under the sun. But—why, I never thought of that before!"

"Of what?" Peter prodded as she lapsed into thoughtful silence.

"I was about to say that he was highly educated. But it suddenly occurred to me that he must have educated himself through his own reading, rather than by going to college or having much ordinary formal instruction. There were the queerest gaps in his knowledge—things that any high school graduate would know. For instance I said once that something was 'an unknown quantity—like X,' and he said, 'What do you mean by that?'

ATLANTA, GA., THURSDAY MORNING, JANUARY 1, 1931.

League Heads Doubtful of Eight Clubs as Meeting Closes

DANFORTH PICKS ALABAMA TO WIN TODAY

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 31.—Here are a few last-minute notes considered interesting in the twilight of 1930 as Alabama and Washington State prepare to open 1931 with a football game in the Rose Bowl:

Coast newspapers—some of them—roared out today with big headlines picking Washington State to win the football game. The best intellects of the Hearst papers in a grand chorus selected the Cougars and ignored the odds of 10-7 on Alabama.

JONES NOT SURE.

Howard Jones, coach of U. S. C., the Chamber of Commerce team in this section, solemnly explained how the Cougars would win but urged none take his tip to wager.

BEARS AT ANALYSIS.

Howard Jones, a journeyman expert on the Herald, gave an extended analysis—they are bears at analysis out here—and proved that the Cougars had the edge in inspirational coaching, psychology, punting and goal kicking.

He gave Alabama an edge in running attack, defensive play and offensive scoring power and called the passing and experience of the two teams even.

Can you imagine a man giving one team the advantage in running attack and scoring ability and in defensive play and yet pick the other team to win?

They are always balmy in California.

SIXTEENTH GAME.

In the modern series this is the sixteenth game in the Rose Bowl, counting the defeat by Washington State of Brown University in 1916 as the first.

However, actually the first Tournament of Roses game was played in 1902 when a Michigan eleven on which Dan McGugin was a player defeated a Stanford team here, 49 to 0. The same 11 Michigan players that started the game finished it.

After that they went to playing rugby in this state; hence the hiatus in games.

HOW ARE YOUR ARCHES?

Ostensibly the football game is just a feature of the Tournament of Roses. They have a parade of flower-decked floats several miles long. Two hundred thousand folks will see it. One of the floats entered by Glendale will be nearly a block long. It is a wonderful sight if you just love flowers and have strong arches.

EACH SCOUTED.

Both Alabama and Washington State have scouted each other in one game. However, each has a senior team and the coaches expect the boys to readjust their defense as the game goes along if unexpected weaknesses develop.

JOHNNY MACK IN DANGER.

Johnny Mack Brown told a party of newspapermen, who visited the M-G-M studio for lunch and a tour with him, that if Alabama were defeated he would have to go back to the farm. He has talked too much for one thing and has wagers on the cuff with every actor in Hollywood.

ODDS 10 TO 6.

For those who were wicked, it may be of interest to know that the sidewalk brokers in Los Angeles are quoting 10 to 6 on Alabama, or giving seven points for even money.

PRE-GAME PROGRAM.

An extended program of stunts has been arranged to precede the game. Three bands, totaling 350 pieces, will perform. The Pasadena Junior College band will act for the Cougars and Alabama will be represented by the Elks' bank. The old familiar American Legion Drum corps will play as a neutral.

OLD BUTCH HIMSELF.

Prominent in the demonstration also will be "Butch" Meeker, the famous Washington State Cougar, who will be brought to the field in his crimson and grey cage. Alabama's mascot will be "Arizona Canary," the burrow presented to the team by the Phoenix Chamber of Commerce. He will need no cage, but how he will long for the sight of a cactus plant before he is through.

THEIR UNIFORMS.

Alabama will wear white shirts and red and white helmets, as they often have done.

The Cougars will be dressed like the devil, in red helmets, red shirts, red pants, red stockings and red shoes. Absolutely, red shoes!

Now what about those odds? How can a team wearing red pants and red shoes beat anybody?

LEAGUE HEADS ARE DOUBTFUL OF EIGHT CLUBS

Deals Expected To Solve Problem Fail and Moguls Adjourn.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 31.—(AP)—Advised that neither Little Rock nor Mobile deals for changes in ownership had been closed, the Southern Baseball association's directors adjourned an emergency meeting here tonight still doubtful whether eight clubs will take the field next spring.

President John D. Martin announced that H. Grady Manning, leader of a group with an option on R. G. Allen's Little Rock club, was unable to reach a decision today in conference with other prospective backers or to determine whether a field will be available.

A telephone call from Mobile informed directors that the as yet unnamed investor planning to back purchase of Jimmy Hamilton's Mobile franchise also had reached no decision.

Allen granted an option on his interests at a conference between himself, Manning ad the directors here yesterday. The Little Rock school board, owner of Kavanaugh field, had refused to lease a field to him and Manning said the success of further efforts depended entirely on attempts to provide either Kavanaugh or some other field.

CONSIDERS SALE.

Hamilton considered sale of his interests, first to Knoxville and later to the present negotiator, after a season studded with poorly attended games, sale of many players and sharply expressed dissatisfaction of his fans.

President Martin and the directors still were hopeful one or both deals would be closed. They adjourned subject to call to another session January 8 if either of the projects fail.

For the first time the association president disclosed officially that trouble also has marred the Nashville club's course.

VOL SITUATION.

"Several long-distance telephone conversations with Nashville were held today," he said. "The league is convinced the situation will develop satisfactorily for operation.

The Nashville franchise was involved in the recent crash of Caldwell & Company, Nashville investment house. J. H. Whaley, president of the club last year, and Ronald Voss, representative of Caldwell & Company's receivers, attended the first two days' sessions of the meeting begun Monday.

The directors were summoned here to consider the suggestion of Thomas R. Watkins, Memphis club owner, that they eliminate two "weak sisters" and cut the loop to six clubs. With their time consumed by hearing delegations from Little Rock, Mobile and Knoxville, no decision on this was reached pending the final outcome of negotiations to keep the present lineup intact.

OFFER.

Knoxville's offer to take over a franchise, backed by an offer of a park and concessions free of rent for five years, and a promise of Sunday baseball, remained in abeyance for the time being.

It is understood Allen and his two sons, R. G., Jr., and Edgar, who accompanied him here, are willing to co-operate in further moves to retain an eight-club circuit, if Manning and other Little Rock businessmen fail to arrange the purchase or to obtain a field.

Manning telegraphed Martin: "We are unable to give you a definite announcement this afternoon." He met with his group at Little Rock today.

Martin had a long distance conversation with "an investor capable of operating the club," at Mobile, who likewise was unable to say whether his deal was closed. Martin said this investor, unnamed by him, was in Mobile.

13 Pros Plan Try For Ryder Cup Play

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Thirteen of the nation's leading professional golfers have been invited to compete for the two remaining positions on America's Ryder cup team, which will play the international matches against England's team at the Scioto Club, Columbus, Ohio, June 26 and 27.

Those invited to compete were Al Watrous, Ed Dudley, John Golden, Billy Burke, Densmore Shute, Olin Dutra, Charles Hilgendorf, Henry Ciuci, Joe Turnesa, Willie Klein, Craig Wood, Wiffy Cox and Frank Walsh. In addition to the two regular positions on the team, the two alternate members will be selected from the field.

Tommy Armour, of Detroit, 1930 professional champion, was not invited because of the rule barring all players of foreign birth.

The Professional Golfers' Association, in making out the invitational list, today revealed that Al Espinosa, of Chicago, had been invited to become a member of the team without competing for a place. His name was inadvertently omitted from the original list recently announced. The other members of the team are Walter Hagen, captain; Leo Diegel, Johnny Farrell, Gene Sarazen and Horton Smith.

Wade Sees No Defeat in Rose Bowl Today

Wallace Wade, whose Alabama football team meets Washington State in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., today, will be watching his third team perform there. He won and tied with two previous teams. Wade is shown above looking down on a scene from his former appearance there when his team tied Stanford. The famous bowl sets in an arroyo about a mile from the hotel Vista del Arroyo where the Alabama team stayed. This is Wade's last look at an Alabama team playing under his direction. He goes to Duke next fall.

SUBSIDIZATION DRAWS FROWNS

Student Federation Deplores Practices; Seeks To Open Sore Wound.

By Herb Clark.

Subsidization of athletes, admitted as a practice in colleges and universities throughout the United States at a National Students Federation of America group conference on athletics at the Biltmore hotel Wednesday afternoon, was deplored—as such—overwhelmingly when a resolution that the conference go on record as favoring subsidization, made by Ralph Greene, of the University of North Carolina, was voted down by a ratio of approximately 20 to 1.

A confliction of opinion as to the definition of the term "subsidization" was an obstacle in the path of the convention from start to finish. It eventually forced the abandoning of the discussion in a thicket of parliamentary procedure.

The concensus of opinion was never brought out by a vote as motions were made, amended and withdrawn. Yet it seemed to favor the practice of awarding scholarships, employing men for campus jobs and giving other aids as enjoyed by the student body as a whole. This expression, voiced haphazardly in the meeting, became more pronounced in informal clique gatherings after adjournment.

It was indicated in these aftermath conclaves that the opinion of the body would be crystallized soon, probably Friday night in the final plenary session. Just what form it will take is still in doubt. Lacking in definition which will serve for the nation at large, the deploring attitude is likely to prevail.

A move to sponsor a national convention of college presidents, coaches and students who will gather to open the sore wound—to drive to the heart of the situation and either bring about open subsidization or purge college sports of all suggestion of subsidization of any sort—may also be made at that time.

Earl Dunlap, Georgia Tech's football captain of last season, was in the chair for the meeting Wednesday afternoon. He had his hands full as a storm of statements, charges and admissions rose hotly from the floor in a session which ran the gamut from Greene's plea to a facetious suggestion for the addition of a "secretary of athletics" to the presidential cabinet.

Over-emphasis, twin bugaboo to subsidization, was mentioned by name

Test in Augusta Favors Old Ball

AUGUSTA, Ga., Dec. 31.—(AP)—Tests conducted today by the Augusta Country Club showed the old golf ball with a slight advantage over the new.

Maureen Orcutt averaged 15 more yards with the old. Dave Ogilvie, Jr., son of club pro, found the old and new the same for distance, and Charles Gray, pro at the municipal golf course, averaged 25 yards more with the old one.

Each player took five drives each with the new and the old, the average distance taken for the result of the test.

Giants of Mat Clash In Feature Tonight

Marshall Blackstock, Stellar Atlanta Wrestler, Faces Steinborn at Auditorium.

Two hundred and twenty-five pounds of enraged Hellenic brawn and strength will be thrown at a like amount of California beef tonight at the auditorium when George Zaharias and Dick Daviscourt clash in the main event of the wrestling program scheduled there.

As Mr. R. Kipling once asked, "What matters border breed or birth when two strong men stand face to face though they come from the ends of the earth?"

It is due to be one of the most titanic matches that has ever been fought on the canvas of the auditorium ring. It is a wrestling match and not a fight, but such is the intensity of the competition that it will be very near a fight. It is not a grudge affair at all, but one in which there is naturally a lot of desire to win on both sides.

Daviscourt, "Rough Richard," wrestling veteran and still one of the topnotchers, is rated on even terms with the gigantic young Greek, "the Human Truck," whom he meets over a two-hour limit match under Police Gazette rules.

Zaharias, angered because fans pour out to see him lose, has sworn a mighty vow to pin the shoulders of the huge Daviscourt tonight so that he may have his revenge.

In the semi-windup another Atlanta favorite, Milo Steinborn, world's strongest wrestler, meets Marshall Blackstock, Atlanta boy. There is a great deal of interest in Blackstock. Three years ago he was just an average wrestler learning the game. Since that time he has advanced until he has been given matches in New York, Chicago, St. Louis and other cities. His return here will bring out many of his friends. There is always interest in the prodigiously strong Steinborn. If Blackstock can beat him he will establish himself as a favorite.

A 15-minute preliminary will open the New Year's card. Tickets are on sale at the Piedmont Hatters and at the Candler building soda fountain. Ladies will be admitted to any seat in the auditorium for $1.

Grove Selected As 1930's Star

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Lefty Grove, pitching ace of Connie Mack's Athletics, is the star of the 1930 all-stars.

Such is the verdict of 228 members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America, 218 of whom named the southpaw twirler in ballots returned to the Sporting News, of St. Louis, in the selection of its mythical club.

The all-star squad includes six players from the American league and four from the National, as follows:

Cochrane, Grove's battery mate now, named as the Sporting News' all-star catcher for the third successive year, ran a close second in popularity with the experts, polling 212 votes.

LAUDERDALE TOURNEY.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Dec. 31.—(AP)—Official change in the dates of the $1,500 Fort Lauderdale open golf tournament to January 11-13, was announced today by Thomas G. Farmer, in charge of the municipal course here.

Zuppke Defends Gridiron Game

DALLAS, Texas, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Robert C. (Fighting Bob) Zuppke, Illinois football mentor here to coach the Midwest team for a New Year's Day game with a Southwest team in the annual Dixie Classic, spoke yesterday before a luncheon club, decrying attacks on college sports.

"For the most part," he said, "the people who are out to abolish football are those who have never played it."

College athletes put more time in on track and basketball than in football, Zuppke said.

Wofford Defeats J. P. C. Five, 31-28

Wofford's basketeers started the new year off right last night when they defeated the strong Jewish Progressive quintet on the club court, 31-28.

The Terriers from South Carolina got the jump on the clubmen and held a 19-10 lead at the half-way mark. In the closing half, the Progressives spurted and pulled to within a couple of points of the Terriers but failed as the closing whistle sounded.

This gives the Wofford an even break for their stay in Atlanta, having lost their first game to the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night.

STARS OF DIXIE IN GAME TODAY

Two Elevens Clash at Houston in Game for Charity.

By Gayle Talbot, Jr.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

DALLAS, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Two powerful squads of midwestern and southwestern football stars tonight awaited the starting whistle of the third annual Dixie Classic, charity engagement, at Ownby stadium here tomorrow.

After completing their final workout in a drizzling rain, the southwestern stars elected Buddy Hackman, Tennessee halfback, and Jack Dale, University of Arkansas fullback, to act as co-captains. Both will be in the starting line-up.

Coach Morley Jennings of the southwest gave his huskies a stiff session in the morning and another in the afternoon.

Coach Bob Zuppke contented himself with an hour's light workout for the midwesterners.

Judging from their practice activities, the two elevens will show vastly different types of offense. The southwest, with a speedy, versatile set of backs, has a wide assortment of intricate plays.

Hackman, the Tennessee ace, is on the throwing end of Coach Jennings' aerial attack. Leroy Bethea, pride of Florida, and Jake Wilson, elusive Baylor quarterback, complete a trio of topnotch ground-gainers. Dale, scheduled to start at fullback, is most valuable as an interferer and in backing up the line on defense.

Sizing the two squads up as individuals, the southwest holds slightly the more promise.

There will be no broadcast. The game is scheduled at 2 p. m.

The elevens likely to start tomorrow, the midwest seeking its third straight victory, are:

Southwest: Peterson (Texas) and Lott (Oklahoma Aggies), ends; Witcher (Baylor) and Armstrong (Missouri), tackles; Koch (Baylor) and Lee (Oklahoma), guards; Paradeaux (Baylor), center; Wilson (Baylor), quarterback; Hackman (Tennessee) and Bethea (Florida), halfbacks; Dale (Arkansas), fullback.

Midwest: Rogge (Iowa) and Casey (Wisconsin), ends; Ridler (Michigan State) and Buttner (Purdue), tackles; Stears (Purdue) and Vanyo (Ypsilanti Normal), guards; Clark (Northwestern), center; Molley (Loyola) or Jensvold (Iowa), quarterback; Kissell (Purdue) and Hinchman (Butler), halfbacks; Deig (Marquette), fullback.

Purples Set for Game Today With All-Stars

HOUSTON, Texas, Dec. 31.—With a long signal drill and light dummy scrimmage as the final football practice of the year, Boys' High's Purple Hurricane football eleven from Atlanta, Ga., appeared ready tonight for the game Thursday afternoon with the Houston All-Stars. It is an annual New Year's Day game and is again sponsored by the Houston Shriners.

The team arrived early Wednesday morning and after a light breakfast the youngsters engaged in their final workout.

Coaches Doyal and Orgain were very much pleased with the spirit and drive of the team. There are no injuries. Several of the players, the linemen in particular, are bruised from recent scrimmages but are ready for 60 minutes of hard playing, to start the new year off.

Houston All-Stars, picked from the various high school teams in the immediate vicinity of Houston, have been working together for several weeks. They looked unusually good in a recent scrimmage and the coaches seem pleased with results of their labors.

The locals will probably outweigh the visitors but what the Hurricane lacks in weight will be made up in team work.

When approached for a starting lineup tonight, Coach Doyal, of Boys' High, was not positive but indicated his regulars will start. They include: Captain Katz and Jones at ends; Fitzsimmons and Rhodes at tackles; Preston and Glenn at guards; Brewer at center; Donehoo at quarterback; McKinstry and Perkerson at halfbacks, and Mizell, a brother of the former Tech star, at fullback.

Houston coaches were undecided as to their starting lineup tonight.

'Gator Stars Ready For Charity Game

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 31.—(AP)—A team of Florida high school football stars and the White Plains (N. Y.) High school team today wound up their preparations for an intersectional game here tomorrow.

Proceeds of the game will go to Mayor C. H. Reeder's unemployment fund.

Coaches of both of the teams put their men through brief workouts today.

WOMAN CLUB OWNER.

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 31.—(AP)—Mrs. Lucille R. Thomas, of Tulsa, announced late today she had completed negotiations for the purchase of the Tulsa Western league baseball franchise from Phil Ball and L. C. McEvoy, owners of the St. Louis American league club. The consideration was not disclosed, but Mrs. Thomas said the cash terms were considerably under the $30,000 asked for the Wichita Western league franchise which she attempted to buy last summer.

Australian Girl Sets Swim Mark

SYDNEY, Australia, Dec. 31.—(AP) Miss Bonnie Mealing, who represented Australia at the 1928 Olympic games, created what is claimed to be a world's record for the 150-yard backstroke, swimming the distance in 1:54 3-5 at Cogee Baths today.

The American record for women of 1:56 4-5 was established by the late Sybil Bauer, of Northwestern, in 1923. E. King, of Great Britain, is credited with the world's best time for women, covering the distance in 1:57 2-5 in 1928.

Mobile Preps Name Moon Ducote Coach

MOBILE, Ala., Dec. 31.—(AP)—Moon Ducote, former star football player who was chosen for Walter Camp's All-American eleven several years ago, has been named coach of the Mobile county high schools. Ducote at one time played the outfield with the Mobile Southern association baseball club.

slaught. Certainly he does not class the Cougars with his weaker opponents.

In final preparation for the show, the Tide took a light workout in the bowl today and came on back to the hotel. They had been under restraint all morning with orders to avoid contacts with the constant stream of Alabama alumni who were rushing out from Los Angeles to look at the boys and get their tickets. And while the New Year's Eve festivities are at boiling point, the young men of Tuscaloosa will be kept herded on the sixth floor of the Vista Del Arroyo waiting for bedtime and accumulating a set of nerves.

After manifesting all the aplomb and detachment of a crowd of schoolboys on a sightseeing tour for a week, the squad today showed signs that they realized a football game was near at hand. They were irritable, noncommunicative and restless. In this they reflected the spirit of the coaches, who also are keenly alive to the seriousness of the game at hand. As far as one can tell, the Red Elephants will be mentally ready to play their best. And physically they are in very good shape, too.

ED PICKS TIDE.

I look for Alabama to win but can see how they easily can lose to this tall, determined crew from Pullman, Wash. If Alabama strolls into the bowl carelessly and spends any time gazing at the crowd and the snow-capped mountains, the Cougars are certain to sling forward passes at them and score. And with Washington State in the lead I would not give much for the Tide's chances.

The Cougars are far and away the best defensive team Alabama has met this season. But if Alabama can score first or reach the half with a scoreless tie, I believe they will win out through superior reserves.

Every time the radio tells you that Washington State has thrown a pass, look out. The Alabama backs are short and squatty; the Cougar receivers are tall and rangy. The only two touchdowns scored on Alabama this year have been by the overhead route.

TIDE CAN PASS.

Likewise, when Alabama cuts loose her own pass attack, look out for a touchdown. The Tide can pass well and much attention has been paid to aerials since coming here. The Tide has thrown very few this year; vague figures have it 18 passes all told.

Yet three of these have gone for touchdowns. That is a sound percentage.

With both teams contemplating abandonment of their usual conservative game—and such is the dope—one can expect gridiron fireworks to be set off about 4:15, Five Points time.

Alabama Players Expose Brasfield

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 31.—(AP)—The second case of an aspiring football player entering the University of Southern California under an assumed name in an effort to make the Trojan team has been revealed.

Jeff Clay, an ineligible this season, was identified yesterday by members of the Alabama team now preparing in Pasadena for a New Year's Day game with Washington State, as Davis Brasfield, former 'Bama player.

Professor H. C. Willet, Trojan athletic representative, said Clay had withdrawn December 17 after a check of his entrance application and, in doing so, had escaped expulsion.

Clay or Brasfield had attracted attention by his passing. He played with the Spartans, a group of ineligibles.

The first instance of such a hoax was revealed several weeks ago when George Kirkwood, a third-string halfback, was dismissed from the institution. Faculty members said Kirkwood's name was Spencer Purvis and he had played football at the College of Puget Sound.

Dunlap and Wilson In Pinehurst Final

PINEHURST, N. C., Dec. 31.—(AP) George T. Dunlap, Jr., of New York, Princeton golfer, today won his way to the finals of the twenty-ninth Pinehurst mid-winter golf tournament, defeating P. S. P. Randolph, of Hempstead, L. I., 4 and 3.

Forbes K. Wilson, of York Harbor, Maine, also won his way to the finals by defeating Arnold White, of New York, one up.

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION No. 64

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Swarming down the jungle trail came the long-awaited Gomangani reinforcements. "JUST IN TIME!" exclaimed Tarzan of the Apes. "Hasten!" he shouted, "the Bolgani are upon us. Come and avenge your wrongs." Calling the other blacks about him, the ape-man leaped forward to meet the oncoming gorilla-men. Behind him, wave after wave of Gomangani rolled through the east gate of the Palace of Diamonds, carying everything before them.

The shouting and the fighting worked Jad-bal-ja into such a frenzy that Tarzan with difficulty restrained him from springing upon friend and foe alike. And so frantic were the Gomangani with the bloodlust of revenge, and so enthused with the first fruit of victory that they went fully as mad as the golden lion himself. The wavering wall of Bolgani was hurled back. No quarter was given and the fighting ended only when the last gorilla-man lay dead.

The battle over, Tarzan with his followers returned to the throne room from which the fumes of the smoke bombs had now disappeared. He summoned the headmen of each village to appear before him. "Gomangani of the Valley of the Palace of Diamonds," he addressed them, "this night have you won your freedom from the beast-masters that have oppressed you for so long. You have no leader capable of ruling you wisely and well. Choose one now."

"YOU! YOU!" cried voice after voice as the head men clamored to elect Tarzan their king. "That may not be," replied the ape-man, "but there is one who has lived among you, knows your customs and hopes. He will make you a good king," and Tarzan pointed to the old man. But he of the gray beard looked at Tarzan in bewilderment. "Surely you will not desert me," he cried, "back would I go into the world of civilization from which all these years I have been buried."

NIEHOFF SIGNS ATLANTA BOY FOR LOOKOUTS

Ed McGhee, Infielder, Will Join Others on Roster.

By Ralph McGill.

Bert Niehoff is paying quite a lot of attention to the young idea about Atlanta. The new skipper of the Chattanooga Lookouts has already picked up several young sand-lotters and is after more.

Ed McGhee, former Decatur High school boy who had a tryout with the Crackers last spring, was signed Tuesday. McGhee played shortstop in the Georgia-Alabama league for most of last season, illness forcing him out. He is well again and enthusiastic about a chance with the Lookouts under Bert Niehoff.

Niehoff is trying to line up a good squad of young players to look over in the spring. All the smart managers are doing the same thing. The new Southern league rule almost demands it.

The new rule provides that each club must carry five rookies who are really that. Former rules made it possible to carry veterans under a rookie classification.

The new regulations limit rookies to those who have been at bat a certain number of times and pitchers who have worked not more than 60 innings in leagues of classification lower than Class A.

This will mean that the largest number of rookies ever assembled will be on hand when the eight teams of the Southern league assemble for spring practice.

The Crackers have a number of first-class rookies on their rolls who will report early in March. Other clubs are hastily signing them.

Atlanta rookies are looked on favorably since the successful debut of Luke Appling, sold by the Crackers to the White Sox for $25,000.

SUBSIDIZATION DRAWS FROWNS

only in passing. It was frowned on with beetling brows as Kenneth Meuser, of Kansas University, reiterated that the quest of gate receipts made good football teams imperative.

These, he added, were obtainable through but two channels—subsidization or the forcing of a return to the spirit of the "good old days." This Utopia he defined as one in which athletes were sufficiently funded themselves to permit of participation and in which such participation was for sheer love of the game.

A cross-section of subsidization practices over the country was given in what amounted to a "free speech" fest. Action was evidently cramped, however, by a disinclination on the parts of the delegates to crack down hastily.

Tabling, in effect, subsidization, the conference trained its guns on the management of athletics and moved for more voice in the handling of sports affairs—taking another step in the student revolt which was given an eastern start some few weeks ago. A resolution bearing on this question is also due Friday.

The practice of selecting All-American teams came up for a short discussion. A resolution in opposition to the naming of the mythical elevens was defeated by a good majority.

Sarazen will not Play in Miami Open

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 31.—(AP)—Gene Sarazen, dapper Italian golf professional, will not defend this year the crown he has won four successive years as champion of the Miami op n tournament.

Sarazen advised friends here today that he had been obliged to cancel plans to participate in the open the latter part of this week in view of an earlier promise to enter the Los Angeles open, which starts January 9.

BACK AGAIN.

IT TOOK wrestling a long time to crash the New York gate, but Jack Curley finally wore down the metropolitan spectators and the climax came when 229,321 stormed their way into Madison Square Garden, with several thousand turned away.

For many years wrestling has flourished in many sections of the country as New Yorkers laughed merrily at the fall-guy fashions of other cities in supporting what New York labeled the final work in fakery. But when New York fell it fell with the loudest crash of all when Londos finally cracked a thick-planked floor with Holuban's shining egg of concrete.

All this time wrestling has been extremely popular in the colleges, where it has been one of the favored sports. For example, Michigan's football team last fall carried four heavyweight wrestlers from the university collection. If wrestling isn't good training for line play, then meat is unfit food for a lion.

The queer part is that college wrestlers have gone a long way in the professional game where college boxers have gone nowhere at all except in the general direction of the floor. Big Wayne Munn, of Nebraska; Sonnenberg, of Dartmouth; McMillen, of Illinois; George and others have either reached the top or have barely missed it.

Wrestling has been working its way for some time in the direction of a big revival where no one seems to bother much as to whether or not it is all arranged as long as it is fast and interesting.

McGUGIN FAVORS ALABAMA.

DAN McGUGIN, Vanderbilt's able and veteran coach, picks Alabama on two counts to beat Washington State.

"Experience and power are hard combinations to hold in check," the Vanderbilt coach remarks. "Alabama has both. They have nine seniors and they have a line from tackle to tackle that averages more than 200 pounds, and in addition this line carries speed.

"Alabama's backfield is also high class. I know Washington State is strong and will be hard to score on. But I don't believe the western team can hold off this Alabama team for 60 minutes. A lot of us in the south tried to, but the heavy pounding always broke us down."

COLLEGE GOLF COURSES.

MICHIGAN and Ohio State are two of the latest universities to add their own college golf courses to the sporting landscape surrounding the maize and blue and the scarlet and gray. Fielding H. Yost was quite content to shift the subject from football to golf for the first time in his career, dating back to West Virginia and Lafayette around 1894 or 1895.

"We have spent over $300,000 on the course at Michigan," he said, "and I believe Dr. McKenzie has given us one of the best in the country."

"Do you have much trouble with the bunkers there?" I asked the famous veteran. "No," he said, "but I often have a lot of trouble getting from the wrong fairway back to the right one."

Messrs. St. John, Willaman and Trautman were equally pleased with the new golf scheme at Ohio State, to say nothing of the new swimming layout, one of the best in the land.

The time isn't far away when college golfers will be playing an even bigger part in amateur and open championships. A few such courses as those at Yale, Michigan and Ohio State will turn out more than one worthy challenger, and the same will also help to remove pressure from football—especially spring football. A golf nut is quite willing for 70,000 to cheer some one else as long as he can sink a few perfect putts and crack a few straight from the middle.

VIRGINIA BOARD TO NAME COACH

UNIVERSITY, Va., Dec. 31.—Selection of a new head coach of football for the University of Virginia will be taken up in a few days by the athletic council's committee on coaches.

The resignation of Earl Abell, head coach in 1929 and 1930, which was submitted to the council last week was accepted by the athletic authorities Saturday night at a special meeting. Coach Abell has not announced his plans for the future.

Virginia's committee on coaches which has charge of making the selection includes Dr. Allen F. Voshell, representing the faculty; John (Speed) Elliott, of New York city, for the alumni, and Hunter C. Motley, of Madison, Va., captain of football, from the student body.

Gus Tebell, head coach of basketball and baseball and assistant coach of football, is not a candidate for the post of head football coach. The former Wisconsin star is in full charge of two major sports and the committee is not considering adding to his duties the conduct of play on the gridiron.

The athletic authorities are seeking all sportsmen who can become members of a permanent staff of sports instructors.

John S. LaRowe, boxing coach, has been in charge of the ring sport here ever since it was formally adopted in 1922.

Tulane Defeated By Sewanee, 27-25

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Sewanee's Tigers here tonight eked out a 27 to 25 win over Tulane University in their New Year's Eve basketball game. Sewanee took an early lead, but Tulane crossed it before the half and the midway score was 14 to 11 in favor of the Greenies. The Tigers later got going again and ended it purple.

JUMPER HAS A DOUBLE SCARE

By Thornton W. Burgess.

I wish the whole Great World good cheer!
Thus do we start another year.
—Old Mother Nature.

The great storm was over. It had been one of the worst winter storms for years. The snow lay deep, very deep, all through the Green Forest and all over the Green Meadows, which now were white instead of green. It was the same way in the Old Pasture, the Old Orchard and even on the Great Mountain. In places the snow was drifted deep. It took Farmer Brown and Farmer Brown's boy a long time to shovel a path from the house to the barn. The little house of Bowser the Hound was quite buried, but Bowser had been in the kitchen all through the storm, so this didn't matter.

Now jolly, round, bright Mr. Sun was smiling down from the blue, blue sky and a world of white was smiling up at him. It was the first day of a new year and Old Mother Nature was doing her best to make it a beautiful one. She believes that that which has a right start is likely to continue right. So now she was doing her best.

Jumper the Hare was one of the first to be out and about. There was an excellent reason for this. Jumper's big, hair-covered feet were like snowshoes in that they enabled him to move about on the snow instead of in it. For most of the others such as Reddy Fox, Old Man Coyote, Yowler the Bob Cat, Lightfoot the Deer and even Peter Rabbit, getting about in this soft snow was almost impossible. Lightfoot and Mrs. Lightfoot had crept moving more or less even during the storm when it was not at its worst and had kept certain paths of their own more or less trodden down. These paths crossed and recrossed between the food trees and formed what hunters call a deer yard. In the yard Lightfoot and Mrs. Lightfoot could move about, but outside of it they would have been helpless.

Of course the first thing Jumper thought of was his stomach. In fact, all the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows were thinking of their stomachs, for few of them had been able to get anything to eat during the storm, and some of them were very hungry indeed. Even now some of them would have to wait for the snow to settle before they could move much. And for some the finding of food was going to be hard work because of the snow. However, it was not so for Jumper the hare. The deep snow brought within easy reach a new supply of food. You see there were shrubs and young trees from which he had nipped off the buds and cut the tender twigs and gnawed the bark as far up as he could reach before the coming of the snow. Now he could reach a new supply from the top of the snow.

So Jumper the Hare was in a happy mood as he started out to get his breakfast. He knew he would have no trouble in finding what he wanted, and as much as he wanted. He knew that his fur-coated enemies would not be moving about yet, so the only ones he would have to watch out for would be feathered ones, Hooty the Great Horned Owl, Whitey the Snowy Owl and Terror the Goshawk. So, as he hopped along he kept his eyes up in the treetops most of the time.

He was doing this when without warning there was an explosion in the snow almost under his nose. The snow flew in every direction and there was a roar that frightened him half to death. He sprang to one side and started to run as only he can when badly frightened. Under his very nose there was a second explosion in the snow and a second roar. Jumper almost turned a somersault in his effort to stop. Was he frightened? Never in his life had he been more frightened. I think you would have been frightened had you been in his place. I am sure I would. Yet those two explosions in the snow were harmless, and when Jumper could gather his wits he knew it. He had seen and heard such explosions before. It was the unexpectedness of them that had frightened him.

History a-plenty has been made at Candler Field during the past year, what with the opening of the Southern Trancontinental passenger-mail line to the coast, the inauguration of the New York-Atlanta mail-passenger service and the doubling of service on the Atlanta-New York air mail route. More will be recorded today when Eastern Air Transport, Inc., officially opens its passenger line to Florida, with two Curtiss Kingbirds, twin-motored, 10-place craft, scheduled to take off around 9:30 o'clock.

Standing by pretty idly so far as municipal assistance goes, Atlanta had the satisfaction of seeing Candler Field make remarkable progress as an air center during 1930. Existing services were expanded and strengthened and new lines opened in several directions; individual companies have spent large sums of money in improving their plants and physical equipment and the city has come to be regarded as a real aeronautic "hub." But without the splendid assistance which has been rendered by the county—in spending a total of $75,000 in grading operations and the laying of concrete aprons—the field would have been totally unfit for the demands placed upon it by the steadily increasing traffic.

But the county should not be expected to do it all, despite the fact that the Fulton commissioners have demonstrated their willingness to carry most of the load. Since buying the field a couple of years ago, financial assistance from the city has been conspicuous by its absence, the powers that be having asked to be excused from spending any money on the basis of the city's low exchequer. The county rose to the occasion and carried the work at the field for a year or more; it's now Atlanta's turn to take some interest in what has very definitely proved itself a civic asset. It is hoped that the city can find the money to build the administration building which Field Manager Gray recommended in his annual report as well as to make every other improvement—all of them vital—which Gray suggested for the year. Atlanta has always been able to find funds when it wanted them badly enough; here's an opportunity to spend some on an investment which will pay big dividends.

Only one visiting plane was recorded at the airport Wednesday. Art Chester and Mrs. Chester, from some point in the middle west, stopped by on a flight to Miami in a LeBlonde-powered Davis monoplane. They stored their ship for the night at the Curtiss-Wright hangar and will continue the journey this morning.

POLICE RADIO SYSTEM INCLUDED IN BUDGET

Adding $8,500 for installation of radio equipment for police "cruiser cars," the 1930 police committee of council Wednesday night held its last session of the year and adopted a recommended budget for operation and maintenance of the department for 1931.

The total budget asked to which the radio fund was added was $909,324.37.

There are few increases in salaries or for any other purpose in the proposed budget. No increase in the number of patrolmen is contemplated, Chief James L. Beavers asserting that the radio equipment, at the nominal cost, will be equivalent to adding at least 50 men to the department.

A proposal of Councilman Joseph E. Berman to eliminate the double docketing system of cases and abolish the cashier at the recorders' courts was referred to Recorder A. W. Callaway and John L. Cone for a recommendation.

Councilman W. Paul Carpenter, who retires Monday from council, was lauded by members of the committee.

NEGRO LEAPS 40 FEET FROM BRIDGE; UNHURT

Leaping over the viaduct railing near the old Union depot site and taking a sheer drop of 40 feet to the tracks below in an effort to escape the owner of a car who had caught him tampering with the mechanism, Eddie Williams, 18-year-old negro, of 25 1-2 Courtland street, was caught by three city employees early Wednesday night and taken to police station where he is held on a charge of suspicion.

J. N. Jarrett, of 675 Home avenue, owner of the car, said the negro, who was attempting to start the machine, fled at his approach, and when he reached the wall of the viaduct leaped off into space. The city employes who captured him were R. W. Respess, Glenn Jones and J. W. Terry. The negro was not injured.

The report for 1930 also showed that "14 of the persons lynched were in the hands of the law; three were killed in jails, two of these were shot to death and one was burned to death when mob burned jail; five of the other 11 persons in the hands of the law were taken from jails and six from officers outside of jails. Of the seven victims who did not come within the hands of the law, one was burned to death and one was put to death and his body burned.

"There were 40 instances," the report continued, "in which officers of the law prevented lynchings. Five of these were in northern and western states and 35 in southern states . . . a total of 60 persons, six white men, 52 negro men and two negro women, were thus saved from death at the hands of mobs.

"Of the 21 persons lynched, one was white and 20 were negroes. The offenses were: Rape, 8; murder, 3; attempted rape, 2; killing officers of the law, 2; robbery, 3; being a witness, 1; bombing houses, 1; charge not reported, 1.
